

20, 1915
WOULD YOUR WIFE
TAKE MONEY?

FIFTH EPISODE IN THIS ISSUE OF THE HERALD

Runaway June
By Geo. Randolph Chester
And Lillian Chester

PICTURES AT COLONIAL
EVERY WEDNESDAY NIGHT

WHY DID JUNE
RUN AWAY?

THE HOME PAPER

VOL. 30 NO. 44

ONLY PAPER BETWEEN COLUMBUS AND CINCINNATI RECEIVING THE ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON DAILY HERALD.

THE WEATHER—Probably rain Monday and Tuesday. Colder

WASHINGTON C. H., OHIO, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1915

Ten Cents a Week

NEWS WITHOUT COLOR

NO TROUBLE EXPECTED OVER SINKING OF BOAT

Searching Inquiry Ordered By Secretary Daniels, Who Anticipates No Serious Complications Unless The Evelyn Was Torpedoed.

Associated Press.
Washington, Feb. 22.—Secretary
Daniels today ordered Commander Walter R. Gherardi, American naval attache at Berlin, to investigate and make a full report on the destruction of the American steamer Evelyn.
So far officials have merely reported the sinking of the vessel and her cargo, but gave no details.

Secretary Daniels explained that his purpose in directing an inquiry, after the State Department had called upon the Ambassadors at London and Berlin for a report, was to secure technical information which, perhaps, might not be included in the Ambassadors' replies. It was, of course, understood that Commander
Gherardi, as American attache at the American Embassy at Berlin, would be guided entirely by Ambassador
Bard in making his investigation.
Unless Captain Smith or some of the members of the crew of the steamship actually saw the conning tower or the periscope of a submarine, officials say, it would not be possible to deny that the Evelyn was sunk by a mine. The fact that the Evelyn lies at the bottom of the North sea would make it difficult to examine her hull.

It was pointed out, however, that German officials might disclose to the American naval officer, in confidence, the map of their mine field in the vicinity where the Evelyn was sunk.
Chairman Stone of the Senatorial Foreign Relations Commission said he would see no complications arising from the destruction of the Evelyn.
"An American vessel," said the senator, "ventured into an area known to be mined and, unfortunately, struck one. So far, it is not probable that the national claims for damages may be made when all the facts are established, but I cannot see how serious complications could come from the incident."

New York, Feb. 22.—William L.
Harris, of the firm which owned the steamship Evelyn, sunk in the North Sea yesterday, said today that his firm would make no protest to the State Department, as he considered the loss of the ship due to a war risk which he had taken.

Berlin, Feb. 22.—Further reports concerning the sinking of the American steamship Evelyn in the North Sea show that only one man of the crew lost his life. This man was frozen to death in a small boat after the sinking of the steamer.

The Evelyn, which sailed from New York January 29 with a cargo of cotton for Bremen, struck two mines, but the crew had time to get into life boats. Some members of the crew were taken by a German ship to Heligoland, while the others were landed in Holland.

PITTSBURGH YARDS OPEN

By Associated Press.
Pittsburgh, Feb. 22.—The Herr's Island stockyards were opened this morning, after being closed two weeks by the foot and mouth disease.
Receipts of live stock were light.

DIES IN SOLDIERS' HOME SANDUSKY

William Snider, formerly a business man of this city, died at the Soldiers'
Home in Sandusky Sunday. The remains will be brought here and taken to the home of his brother, Mr. S. F.
Snider. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

WILLIAM LONSDALE

English Prisoner—Sentenced
For Striking German Officer.

Photo by American Press Association.

PASSENGER BOAT HAS CLOSE CALL

By Associated Press.
Plymouth, England, Feb. 22.—The Western Daily Mercury says the Australian mail boat Maloja, with 400 passengers, was fired on in the English Channel Saturday afternoon.
She was ordered to stop by an unknown armored merchantman. She ignored the order and made for Plymouth, whereupon the merchantman fired five shells at her, although they all fell short. She reached Plymouth safely.

PUBLIC MEN OBSERVE EVENT

By Associated Press.
Washington, Feb. 22.—George Washington's birthday anniversary was celebrated today in every department of the Capitol.
President Wilson attended exercises under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Sons of the Revolution and the Sons of the American Revolution.

RUSS ADMITS GREAT LOSS

By Associated Press.
Petrograd, Feb. 22.—The loss of almost an entire army corps in the recent retreat from East Prussia is admitted by the Russian General
Staff in its version of the German victory.
Of this corps, it is said, only broken and disorganized portions escaped.

BOATS CRASH ONE SINKS

By Associated Press.
London, Feb. 22.—The Norwegian freight steamer Cuba, bound from London to Rotterdam, was sunk today in a collision in the North Sea.
So far as is known no lives were lost.
The Cuba carried an official mail bag of the American Commission for the Relief of Belgium.

SCANDANAVIANS ARE UP IN ARMS

Joint Conference Held to Determine What Action to Take Toward German Blockade—British Shipping Little Hampered.

By Associated Press.
London, Feb. 22.—Germany's submarine blockade continues to be the chief topic of interest in the United Kingdom, although British shipping apparently is moving with its usual freedom.

The Scandinavian neutrals, however, are showing much alarm over the situation, a great sensation having been caused in those countries by the torpedoing of the Norwegian steamship Belridge off Folkestone last week.
Representatives of the Scandinavian government are holding another conference today, the outcome of which is awaited with much interest by neutral shippers.

The question of a naval convoy, it is understood, is being seriously considered at the conference but the guarded comments of the newspapers show that it is clearly recognized that such a step might lead to war.

The question of the right of the crews of five Danish ships to refuse to sail for English ports is now before a court, which is considering their excuse that Germany is not likely to respect a neutral flag.

Following precedents which seem to have made Sunday a popular day for such raids, a lone German aero-plane flew over several east coast towns last night dropping bombs which did only slight material damage and caused little alarm.

Fighting in the Carpathian mountains still is being fiercely prosecuted by the Russians and Austrian-German forces, but apparently without decisive results for either side.

It is reported in Rome that Pope Benedict has again approached Emperor William in the hope of preparing the way for peace negotiations.

TAFT SAYS NATION IS FACING GREAT CRISIS

By Associated Press.

Morristown, N. J., Feb. 22.—The United States is threatened with a serious invasion of its rights as a neutral by the warring nations of Europe, and in preserving its commerce with these nations is face to face with a crisis, is the opinion of Former President William H. Taft.
"In the solution of that crisis, should it arise, no jingo spirit must be allowed to prevail," Mr. Taft advised. "Neither pride nor momentary passion should influence our judgment," and when the President shall act," Mr. Taft declared, "we must stand by him to the end."

"In this determination we may be sure that all will join, no matter what their previous view; no matter what their European origin. All will forget their differences in self sacrificing loyalty to our common flag and our common country."

Mr. Taft's reference to the situation confronting the United States was made at the conclusion of an address delivered here today before the Washington association of New Jersey.

PIUTES ARE SURROUNDED

By Associated Press.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 22.—Advice from Grayson, Utah, by telephone to Dolores, Colo., stated that a band of Piute Indians, under Tse-Ne-Gat, which fought a desperate battle yesterday with a posse commanded by United States Marshal Aquila Nebeker, had been surrounded in Cottonwood Gulch, near Bluff.

LOWER LIMB IS REMOVED

By Associated Press.

Bordeaux, via Paris, Feb. 22.—The right leg of Madame Sarah Bernhardt, the famous tragedienne, was amputated today at the St. Augustine hospital at Arcachon.

CLAIM MORE PRISONERS

By Associated Press.

Berlin, via London, Feb. 22.—Bulletin.—The German official statement issued today announces that the captures in the battle of the Mazurian Lakes district of East Prussia have been increased to seven generals and more than 100,000 men. The pieces of cannon taken numbered 150.

TAYLOR DEFEATS ALL CONTESTANTS

Will Taylor, the brilliant young athlete from this city, defeated all comers at the big athletic meeting in Chicago recently, and won the meet for the Illinois Athletic club.

He established new records in the Central A. A. U. standing and high jumps but did not equal previous records made in this city. He also won two gold medals and a silver plaque for himself, and carried off 11 points, or more than any other individual in the meet.

ARRESTED FOR DEFYING STATE QUARANTINE LAW

Xenia, O. Feb. 22.—A case, the result of which will be watched by farmers all over the state, comes up in this city Wednesday, when Sher-

BOILER INSTALLED AND POOL REPAIRED

With the installation of the hot water boiler and accessories and the completion of the repair on the pool basin two important features of the Y. M. C. A. are restored to their proper efficiency with a resultant regeneration of the Physical Class spirit.

The work was completed Saturday and with the pool in operation again and an abundance of hot water in the showers Y. M. C. A. members, young and old, are preparing for the resumption of their class work. The recent falling off in physical work membership was due directly to the need of these improvements.

Now that this work is completed Secretary Patton announces that he will begin a thorough investigation into all departments of the institution with a view to "patching up" where patching is required.

Few persons live today, but are preparing to do so tomorrow.—Diderot.

ROBERT L. WILLIAMS

Recent Photo of the New Governor of Oklahoma.

THE LIBERTY BELL

Photo by American Press Association.

The Panama-Pacific wants the famous relic as an exhibit.

Destroys Worms

Worms and parasites are the farmer's worst enemy. They are worse than weeds in corn, or hoppers in clover. You can see the weeds. But worms often get in their deadly work, turning your stock profits into losses, when you don't even suspect they are present.

the medicated stock tonic, water-soluble and condimental.

DESTROYS WORMS

in hogs, sheep and other farm animals.

Here are some SALTONE facts:

- It is ready prepared.
- Animals take it like salt.
- It costs almost nothing.
- We are exclusive agents.
- We absolutely guarantee it.
- Money back if it fails.

Ask us for booklets containing facts, testimonials and full details.

BLACKMER-TANQUARY.

OHIO BRIEFS

For Medical College.
Cincinnati, Feb. 22.—At the conclusion of the dedicatory banquet of the new Cincinnati Municipal hospital here, Harry M. Levy, a local philanthropist, announced that he had agreed to donate $50,000 as the beginning of a $1,000,000 fund for a medical college to work in connection with the hospital. Those present pledged themselves to work to secure the balance of the $1,000,000 as soon as possible.

Kills Self at Card Game.
Cincinnati, Feb. 22.—While in the midst of a card game in his room with two friends here, Charles M. McMasters, fifty-two, a carriage and automobile painter, astonished his companions by getting up from the table and shooting himself through the head. He died a few minutes later. No cause assigned.

Train Kills Veteran.
Athens, O., Feb. 22.—James O. Imes, seventy-five, former postmaster at New Marshfield, was struck by a passenger train at that place and instantly killed. Imes was a veteran of the civil war and prominent in Athens county G. A. R.

Clerk Kills Himself.
Findlay, O., Feb. 22.—T. J. Mudgett, fifty-five, night clerk at the Arlington hotel, shot himself through the heart and died instantly. He came here from Toledo several months ago and had threatened to end his life.

Bitten by Horse; Dies.
Columbus, Feb. 22.—As the result of being bitten on the arm by a horse, Effie G. Heritt, forty-one, is dead. She was bitten a week ago. Blood poisoning developed.

AFTER MANY YEARS.
J. L. Southers, Eau Claire, Wis., writes: "Years ago I wrote you in regard to great results I obtained from Foley Kidney Pills. After all these years I have never had a return of those terrible backaches or sleepless nights; I am permanently cured." Men and women, young and old, find this reliable remedy relieves rheumatism, backache, stiff joints and ills caused by weak or diseased kidneys or bladder. Blackmer & Tanquary, adv.

Delicious brown cakes made from Mrs. Austin's Bag Pancake Flour. All grocers. adv

We Have What You Want
IN COAL, CEMENT, LIME
PLASTER AND SEWER TILE

Borderland, Ky. Gem, Virginia Splint, Hatfield, Sunday Creek, Hocking, Genuine No. 2 Jackson, Old Lee, Anthracite, Pocahontas Lump and Solvey Coke, Virginia and Hocking Run of Mine.

Crescent and Lehigh Cement, Hydrated Lime, Hair and Wool Fibre Plaster.

Sewer Tile, all sizes, Fire Brick and Fire Clay.

Geo. A. Robinson & Co

Both Phones No. 14

COAL!

Pocahontas, Keystone, Hatfield, Sunday Creek, Spruce Fork, Ky Gem, Ky., Hickory Ash, W. Va.

A. C. HENKLE

AMERICAN SHIP STRIKES A MINE

Founders in the North Sea Off the German Coast.

CAPTAIN AND CREW RESCUED

Vessel Had Cargo of Cotton Destined For Bremen and Was Blown Up Within a Few Miles of the Coast. No Blame Attached to Germany For First Disaster to American Shipping Since Outbreak of War.

Berlin, Feb. 22.—The American steamship Evelyn, which left New York Jan. 29 with a cargo of cotton for Bremen, struck a mine off Borkum Island, in the North sea. The vessel sank. Her captain and twenty-seven of the crew were saved. It has not been learned what nation placed the mine.

The Evelyn was bought by the Har-riss-Irby Cotton company about a month ago, and left New York on Jan. 29 bound for Bremen with a cargo of cotton valued at $350,000. The ship was worth $125,000 and the owners are protected against loss of either the ship or her cargo by government insurance. The Evelyn, one of the few old iron ships still afloat was built in Southampton, England, and had many owners. She was first a British ship, the Badsworth, but eventually passed into the hands of Americans.

INQUIRY ORDERED

Washington, Feb. 22.—That no blame can be attached to the German government for the first disaster to an American ship, was the conclusion reached here. Based upon Consul Fee's dispatch, Borkum is one of a chain of islands southwest of the mouth of the Weser river, on which is the port of Bremen. The islands themselves and adjacent waters are within the territorial jurisdiction of Germany, in which she is entitled to lay as many mines as she pleases for the defense of her harbors.

At the German embassy it was pointed out that the accident must have been caused by a mine, as Germany, sorely in need of cotton, would have no object in torpedoing a vessel laden with such a cargo for German consumption.

After a conference with President Wilson, Secretary Bryan cabled Ambassador Page at London and Ambassador Gerard at Berlin to make an exhaustive inquiry as to the facts, and if the crew was landed in either of their respective jurisdictions, to furnish every care and convenience to Captain Smith and his men so that they might return home safely.

Cozy were driven off and in retreating they cut the telephone wires, the only line of communication with Bluff.

The last message that came through said that the Indians had surrounded the posse and a call for help was sent out. A general alarm was spread all through the country. Poses were instantly organized here and at Monticello and other relief expeditions are being formed at Dolores, Cortez and Mancos, Colo. It has been snowing steadily and owing to the heavy fall the progress of the poses will be slow.

The latest information from Bluff said that the strength of the Indians was double what the white men expected to find. They had heard that the Indians, entrenched in the battes about a mile above Bluff, on the San Juan river, were about fifty strong. With the reinforcements that came up the river from the south, it is believed that their force was in excess of 100 fighting men.

Owing to the statement from Bluff, just before the wires were cut, that the Indians were surrounding the town, it was feared a massacre of the entire posse and residents of the town was imminent. This fact drove the relief parties forward in the face of one of the worst gales seen here this winter. No one here knows how many men Marshal Nebeker had in his party when he went to engage the Indians.

CHARGES BECKER BARGAINED FOR GAMBLER'S DEATH

New York, Feb. 22.—How Charles Becker, one time police lieutenant, who is now in the Sing Sing death house for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, is alleged to have personally sought out the keeper of a Harlem gambling house and bargained with him to undertake the killing, is told in detail in an affidavit now in the hands of the district attorney. The document is sworn to by the gunman himself, and it is understood that he has volunteered, if need be, to go on the stand in whatever turn the notorious case may take in the future.

One of the conferences which the deponent says took place between himself and Becker was in an upper Seventh avenue saloon. Becker's counsel is to move this week for a new trial.

The importance of this affidavit lies in the fact that never before, even during the bitterest arraignments of Becker before the two juries which convicted him of murder, was it hinted that he went to any hired assassin personally to bargain for the killing of the gambler who had started to expose the grafting of the then lieutenant of police commanding a strong arm squad.

That Becker was the master mind, the directing will, the power that commanded the murder, was charged, but it was alleged only that he gave his orders to gunmen through Jack Rose, Bridgie Webber and Harry Valon. The gunman who charges that Becker in person came to him was held in reserve during the second trial of the police lieutenant.

The gunman who made the affidavit has become a helpless paralytic since Rosenthal was killed. He is in Hot Springs, Ark., at present.

Cost little; pay much.—Want ada

ONLY 12 DAYS LEFT

In Which You May Join.

ONCE MORE

We state the proposition of the Fayette County Bank Christmas Thrift Club. Every one is invited to become a member. No cost to join and every member of your family should join; deposits made weekly, any day during the week. Payments are so small that you will never miss the money, but the total when you receive it will surely be welcome.

There will be four classes:

25cts per week	50cts per week	$1.00 per week	$2.00 per week
Members who have made all payments will receive
$11.00	$22.00	$44.00	$88.00
Plus Interest	Plus Interest	Plus Interest	Plus Interest

Joining is very simple. Just bring or send the first week's payment, either twenty-five cents, fifty cents, one dollar or two dollars. Your messenger will be given a coupon book in your name showing amount paid. Anyone can join by mail. Send stamps, post office order or check, and your membership book will be sent by return mail.

Fayette County Bank Christmas Thrift Club

SOLDIERY OF VILLA OCCUPY BORDER TOWN

Carranza Holds It Violation of Pledge With United States.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 22.—Outflanking an army of General Maytorena of Sonora, General Ramon Iturbe, Carranza's military governor of Sinaloa, moved out from Navajao, Sonora, seized the town of Alamos, which is at the end of a branch railroad line of the Southern Pacific of Mexico, leading from Navajao, and swung around on the left flank of Maytorena's army in the course of a movement on Guaymas.

This is stated in advices received by the Carranza agency here from Nogales, Ariz. The report stated that severe fighting was in progress, but that Iturbe had been successful in breaking past the enemy and was certain to reach Guaymas.

Advices from Naco, Ariz., stated that more than 1,000 Villa troops of the command of General Juan Cabral followed the initial command, which occupied Naco, Sonora. The Carranza authorities here have wired to Washington representations that the occupation of the Sonora port by Villa forces constitutes a violation of the neutrality pledge which Brigadier General Scott, chief of staff of the United States army, induced Governor Maytorena and General Hill to sign.

CHIEF OF BOY SCOUTS DEPOSED

New York, Feb. 22.—Ernest Thompson Seton is no longer chief scout of the Boy Scouts of America, nor is he any longer a member of the executive board of that organization. Mr. Seton's official connection with the Boy Scouts was severed at the annual meeting held in Washington on Feb. 11, but no public announcement of this fact was made. Those who had in charge the matter of ending Mr. Seton's official connection with the Boy Scouts did it by simply abolishing the office he held. It is known that there has been some feeling against Mr. Seton because he is a British subject and has consistently refused to take any action leading to his becoming an American citizen.

Delicious brown cakes made from Mrs. Austin's Bag Pancake Flour. All grocers. adv

GEORGIA'S BRIEF IN FRANK CASE

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 22.—Asserting the right of every state to make and enforce its own criminal laws free from interference or supervision by the federal courts, and citing the decisions of the supreme court of the United States itself to support this contention, the brief of the state of Georgia in the Leo M. Frank appeal to the supreme court of the United States has been completed, and Attorney General Grice and Solicitor Dorsey have left for Washington to file the document. The hearing before the supreme court is set for tomorrow.

AUSTRIA TO FOLLOW EXAMPLE OF GERMANY

Geneva, Feb. 22.—A dispatch from Innsbruck says that Austria is preparing to emulate Germany by "torpedoing" merchant ships in the Adriatic, and is only awaiting decisive orders from Berlin. It is reported that the two emperors will confer shortly near the frontier.

CATHOLICS WILL SUPPORT KING

Rome, Feb. 22.—It is stated on the highest authority that despite the neutrality of the holy see, the pope's efforts toward peace and the hopes that Italy will not be dragged into the great war, it is expected that in case of intervention Italian Catholics will be expected to support the government. For this purpose the pope has already instructed the bishops and clergy to beware of the neutralistic propaganda lest they should be accused of being unpatriotic.

O. E. S.
Regular meeting of Royal Chapter No. 29, Monday evening, February 22 at 7 o'clock.
MAY M. DUFFEE, W. M.
LOA G. GREGG, Sec.

Boost Your Own Town! PATRONIZE YOUR OWN BAKERIES

These bakeries employ about 20 people, pay between twelve and fifteen thousand dollars a year in salaries to people living in Washington. When you buy Washington-made bread your money is spent and re-spent here at home. When you buy the shipped-in article 4c of your nickel leaves our town forever. Your grocer will be glad to supply you with his own city's product.

Especially

Sauer's Butter-Krust Bread

TO THE POINT

Labor dispute has closed the steel mills at Granite City, Ill., employing 2,500 men.

Cincinnati's new municipal hospital, built at an estimated cost of $1,000,000, was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies.

Mrs. Frosna Legdas, sixty, and her daughter Ouranut, eighteen, were killed in a fire in their lodging house at Manchester, N. H.

Thirty-one men were killed and more than fifty injured when an explosion wrecked the Judditem gas works near Koenigsberg, Germany.

The Buckeye

STATE BUILDING AND LOAN COMPANY, RANKIN BUILDING, 22 WEST GAY ST., COLUMBUS, OHIO.

1. Loans money
2. Just one way—first mortgage on homes and farms
3. So carefully has it thus loaned money
4. That it owns no real estate whatever
5. This fact is proof of most careful loaning of money
6. Assets $8,200,000. Five per cent. paid on time deposits. Write or call for booklets.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHICHESTER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable.
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

ALBERT R. McCOY

Funeral Director and Embalmer.
Office 222 E. Court St. Bell Tel. office, 27; residence, 9 R. Citizens office, 27; residence 541.

WASHINGTON DAILY HERALD
THE HERALD PUBLISHING COMPANY.
W. W. MILLIKAN, President.
PUBLICATION OFFICE NO. 206 EAST COURT ST., OPP. POST OFFICE.
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER.
Subscriptions: By Carrier 10 Cents a Week. In advance $5.00 for the year. By Mail and on Free Deliveries Cash in Advance $3.00 a year; $1.75, 6 months; $1.00, 3 months; 35c, 1 month.
ADVERTISING RATES FURNISHED ON APPLICATION.
Obituaries, memorial notices, resolutions and cards of thanks will be charged at half rates, or 2 1/2 cents per line of six words.
Entered as Second Class Matter, August 20, 1910, at the Postoffice at Washington, C. H., Ohio, Under the Act of March 3d, 1879.
TELEPHONES—Home No. 157. Bell, Main No. 176.

The Same Old Interest
Vitalizing one of the amendments recommended by the constitutional convention and adopted by the voters of the state at the election two years ago, the last General Assembly enacted the "Torrens Law."
Like many other progressive measures adopted at that session of the law-making body of the state the Torrens law has been the object of vicious attack by special interests and unfortunately those interests have been able by an energetic campaign of constant hammering to rally quite a formidable number of unthinking supporters.
The Torrens law is intended to and experts say it does, make the transfer of real property easier and eliminates the danger of loss on account of defective titles.
Men who deal in real estate, even the men, the extent of whose dealings in real estate has been the purchase of a home in the cities or a farm in the country, have long realized that the burden of transferring title to real estate was too complicated, too slow and that the dangers of loss through technicalities in the chain of title greater than it should be. While there were many men in Ohio who realized that present conditions demanded a radical change in the antiquated methods of dealing with and transferring title to real estate, while there were many indeed who thought the time had come when the state of Ohio should provide a method by which a resident of this commonwealth could buy or sell a modest home, worth only a thousand or two thousand dollars, just as easily as he could buy or sell a hundred thousand dollars worth of bonds or twenty thousand dollars worth of live stock or grain.
The burden of working out the plan devolved upon Humphrey Jones of this county and his efforts in the constitutional convention made the present law possible. Again it was up to Mr. Jones to convince the legislature that the plan which he submitted would bring the desired change.
After a battle with special interests the law was enacted.
The forces arrayed against the Torrens law have never given up the fight and, defeated in the constitutional convention, defeated in the last General Assembly, they are again on the back laboring with the present legislative body to repeal the law or to so emasculate as to render it useless.
The opposition to the law which facilitates the transfer of real estate in Ohio and insures a good title to the purchasers, is like the opposition to the Workmen's Compensation law, founded on selfishness and greed.
The liability insurance companies took millions of dollars annually out of Ohio as premiums for insuring employers against loss on account of injury to workmen.
The Torrens law makes it unnecessary for the people of Ohio to pay millions of dollars every year to title guarantee and trust companies to examine and insure title to real estate.
The employers of labor in Ohio were paying premiums to the liability insurance companies for the privilege of having them resist the claims of injured workmen. They have been paying millions to title guarantee and trust companies for the purpose of having them "law" purchasers of real estate who are claims for damages on account of failure of title.
The title guarantee companies, like their business cousins, the liability insurance companies, propose to fight to the last ditch to hold on to the big business in Ohio.
Of course they oppose the land title law. They are powerful and well organized, but Mr. Jones with his characteristic energy and ability has met them at every turn. The fight to destroy the land title law has been ranging more fiercely than generally known, but success for the opponents of the law is not bright.
It is possible that the Torrens law may have some rough edges that could be smoothed away by amendment in some minor details, but to destroy it would be a piece of legislative folly, a victory for special interest and a loss to the people of the state.
The Torrens law "as we call it in Ohio" is a remarkably well constructed law taken all together. That's why special interests want to destroy it. If it was so inartistically drawn to be ineffective there would be little complaint by the guarantee title companies.
Like the Workmen's Compensation law has already done with the real estate owners of Ohio.
It is the same old interests in another field of business, the Torrens law should remain on the statute books of the state. If this legislature stands firm against the onslaught now being made the fight will be ended for all time and the great state of Ohio will be looking after the interests of her real estate owners instead of compelling her citizens to send millions east and to Europe to some foreign guarantee company.

Poetry For Today
WOMAN.
Who rules the world, whatever be-tides,
And ever in true worth abides?
A woman.
Who, ever constant, ever true,
And ever fond, through love, to do
A kindly duty—just for you?
A woman.
Who during all of wifehood's reign
Will ever keep an honor'd name,
Like lustrous gold, without a stain,
And striving always for your gain:
A woman.
Who bears the brunt of worldly care?
Where duty lies is ever there,
And every pain her heart to share
Should anguish fall? An angel fair,
In kindly aid, her love deserve?
A woman.
And when life's work is laid aside;
When hulks of time are in the tide
That sweeps to seaward, ruthlessly, Wide—
Who weeps? and in her heartsob cried?
And breathes the pray'r that's not denied
At Gods white throne where saints abide?
A woman.
Oh, woman! mother! sister! wife!
Thy blessing binds the sweeter life;
And through the battles, cares and strife
Thy sweet devotion, ever rife,
Demands a crown of love's device,
For woman.
—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Weather Report
Washington, Feb. 22.—Ohio and West Virginia—Rain Monday and Tuesday; colder.
Illinois—Rain Monday; Tuesday snow and colder.
Tennessee and Kentucky—Rain Monday; Tuesday colder and clearing.
Indiana—Rain Monday; Tuesday cloudy and colder.
Lower Michigan—Rain or snow Monday; Tuesday snow and colder.
WEATHER OBSERVATIONS.
Observations of the United States weather bureau taken at 7 p.m. Sunday:

Temp.	Weather.
Boston 34	Clear
New York 40	Clear
Buffalo 48	Clear
Washington 48	Clear
Columbus 51	Cloudy
Chicago 44	Cloudy
St. Louis 44	Cloudy
Minneapolis 34	Cloudy
Los Angeles 56	Clear
New Orleans 58	Rain
Tampa 66	Clear
Seattle 46	Cloudy

Weather Forecast.
Washington, Feb. 22.—Indications for tomorrow:
Ohio—Probably rain; colder.

HARRY LAUDER'S PIPERS TO ASSIST RECRUITING
London, Feb. 22.—Harry Lauder, the Scotch comedian, has organized a band of pipers which is to tour Scotland and the north of England with a view to stimulating recruiting.
Beauty of Zambezi Falls.
To realize fully the wondrous beauty of the Zambezi falls, Rhodesia, one must have time to linger and watch the ever changing scene. The depths of the chasm below are veiled from sight by the rising columns of opalescent mist, and above the yawning abyss the sun glints and sparkles, weaving the drops into a magnificent rainbow. Three hundred feet below roars and boils the swirling flood as it emerges from the Boiling Pot, rushing on down the zigzag gorge between towering cliffs of rock, narrow, fierce and of unfathomable depth.—African World.
The Larrimer Laundry Co., phones, Citz. 521; Bell 188 W. Give us a ring, we will do the rest.

Drilled Wells!
Quick Service and Sanitary Water
All kinds of Pump and Repair Work.
Gasoline Engines a specialty. We can fix 'em.
Let us figure with you.
H. C. PARRETT
Citizens' Phone 640

Bits of Byplay
By Luke McLuke
Copyright, 1915, the Cincinnati Enquirer
Oh, Very Well!
"This time may seem a silly joke," remarked old Mr. Snipe.
"But if you want a stove to smoke just take away its pipe."
Paw Knows Everything.
Wille—Paw, is honesty the best policy?
Pa—They say it is, my son. But a whole lot of people are from Missouri.
The Echo.
To me, oh Echo, you're as sweet as any music I have heard.
For you're the only thing can beat a woman out of the last word.
Giddap!
"Is there any connecting link between the animal and vegetable kingdoms?" asked the old fogey.
"Sure there is!" replied the grouch.
"What's the matter with hash?"
My Word!
A motorcar dined in the Bronx. Liked to stand nervous folks on their conx.
He would work his big horn from night until morn and scare you to death with his honx.
Weakness.
"Young man," said the judge, "you admit stealing 1,200 pounds of lead pipe from Mr. Junk. What caused you to do this?"
"Your honor," replied the prisoner, "I did it in a moment of weakness."
"Weakness!" exclaimed Mr. Junk.
"Well, I'm glad he wasn't feeling strong when he was in my store."
Correct.
If epitaphs all told the truth, No matter what your rank; I am afraid that we would find Most tombstones would be blank.
Was Mrs. Pearson a Corn Fed?
Glancing up the stairs that descended from the upper regions, she gave a sigh of relief when Mrs. Pearson's skirts appeared, accompanied by a pair of masculine legs.—American Cookery.
Names Is Names.
C. A. Legg has offices at 5014 Fifth avenue, New York city.
Wise Old Matthew.
Dear Luke—Matthew Prior was the Luke McLuke of his period. I call the following from a book written by Matthew in 1690.—"Rags."
When Biba thought fit from the world to retreat,
As full of champagne as an egg's full of meat,
He woke in the boat and to Charon he said,
He would be rowed back, for he was not yet dead.
"Trim the boat and sit quiet," stern Charon replied,
"You may have forgot—you were drunk when you died."
Bill Is Copping Out Luke's Stuff.
The average society woman is a mere flip. If you kiss her you would die of painter's colic in twenty-four hours.—Billy Sunday in a Philadelphia Sermon.
Things to Worry About.
The price of black opals is going up.
Yep. We Are Getting Scarce!
The wise man is the one who knows how little he knows.—Cincinnati Enquirer. Only a few of us left.—New York Evening Telegram.
Our Daily Special.
Publicity is the mother of success.
Luke McLuke Says:
If we grew bolder as we grow wiser the people who manufacture hair restorer would starve to death.
When mother gets sarcastic and tells father what a blame fool he was when he was courting her and how he used to sit and hold her hand for four hours at a time it tickles father so much that he goes down in the cellar and throws hunks of coal at the furnace.
They claim that booze will not evaporate in glass. But just open a quart of it and let it stand around the house for awhile, and watch how rapidly it will disappear.
If we had the power to see ourselves as others see us the tango wouldn't be as popular as it is.
When other people need matches you always seem to have them. But when you need a match other people are out of them too.
Government meat inspectors have to discriminate. But all corn feeds look good to the meat inspectors who stand on the corners and make comparisons.
Despite the statement to the contrary, the man who has a wife and a baby is compelled to serve two masters.
The old fashioned woman who had so many children that she didn't know what to do now has a married daughter who thinks that it is awfully bad form to have babies yelling around the house.
The fellow with the fringes on the bottom of his pants can always tell you that success is merely a matter of luck.
Nearly every woman feels sorry for some other woman's husband.
A whole lot of men read the weather forecast every day solely because they hope to catch the forecast in a lie.
If a woman gets hold of a check for $5 she hustles downtown at 8 o'clock in the morning to get it cashed before the bank runs out of money.
Many an old hen makes a goose of herself in public by trying to act like a chicken.

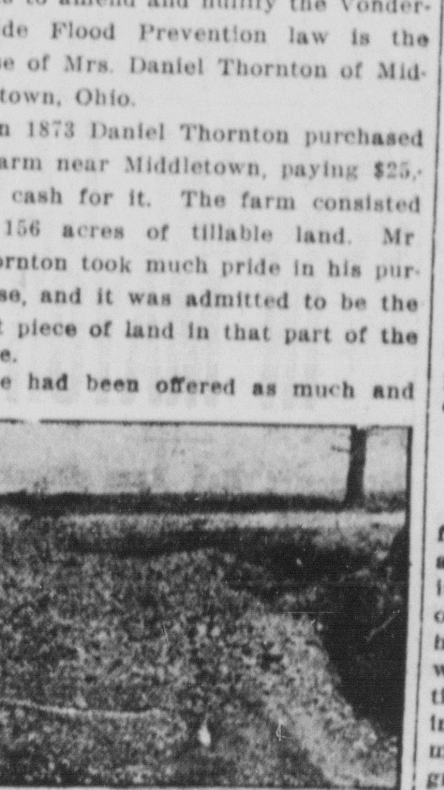

Weather Report
Washington, Feb. 22.—Ohio and West Virginia—Rain Monday and Tuesday; colder.
Illinois—Rain Monday; Tuesday snow and colder.
Tennessee and Kentucky—Rain Monday; Tuesday colder and clearing.
Indiana—Rain Monday; Tuesday cloudy and colder.
Lower Michigan—Rain or snow Monday; Tuesday snow and colder.
WEATHER OBSERVATIONS.
Observations of the United States weather bureau taken at 7 p.m. Sunday:

Temp.	Weather.
Boston 34	Clear
New York 40	Clear
Buffalo 48	Clear
Washington 48	Clear
Columbus 51	Cloudy
Chicago 44	Cloudy
St. Louis 44	Cloudy
Minneapolis 34	Cloudy
Los Angeles 56	Clear
New Orleans 58	Rain
Tampa 66	Clear
Seattle 46	Cloudy

Weather Forecast.
Washington, Feb. 22.—Indications for tomorrow:
Ohio—Probably rain; colder.

Here's Something That Will Please You. It Is The Famous COLONIAL CAKE
New York's favorite, and it will be YOUR favorite in five flavors—Chocolate, Lemon, Orange, Carmel and Cherry. Purest of butter butter used. We stand back of the guarantee.
TRY THIS POPULAR BOX CAKE
For sale by all grocers
FLOWERS' BAKERY

LOSES $35,000 IN ONE NIGHT
Valuable Farm Land Is Ruined by Action of Water.
ECHO OF MIAMI VALLEY FLOOD
Mrs. Daniel Thornton, Middletown, Ohio, Loses a Fortune in Farm Land in 1913 Flood—Land Once Valued at $35,000 Is Now on Tax Duplicate For $2,000.
One of the real distressing incidents brought to mind by the present agitation on the part of selfish interests to amend and nullify the Vonderheide Flood Prevention law is the case of Mrs. Daniel Thornton of Middletown, Ohio.
In 1873 Daniel Thornton purchased a farm near Middletown, paying $25,000 cash for it. The farm consisted of 156 acres of tillable land. Mr. Thornton took much pride in his purchase, and it was admitted to be the best piece of land in that part of the state.
He had been offered as much and

The Thornton Farm After the Flood.
more than he had paid for it on several occasions, but he could not be induced to part with it.
After the death of Mr. Thornton the widow and daughter lived on the place, but the farming privilege cut to a tenant. It was their only means of support.
Damaged in 1908.
During the high water of 1908 the farm was damaged to some extent, but through hard work the land had been brought back to its original condition of fertility and a happy and contented family little dreamed what was to be their lot in the near future.
On Wednesday, March 26, 1913, Lamseyer, the tenant, realized the coming danger and began to move his family to higher ground. He succeeded in getting his wife to the nearby hills and he and his two sons went back to save the cattle and horses. They were caught by the force of the current and forced to abandon the attempt, taking refuge in the large tank barn. They remained in the upper story of this place of refuge for the balance of that day and into the next day, when the action of the waters caused it to collapse, carrying the father, two sons and a neighbor's boy to their deaths. The bodies of the father and elder son were recovered near the spot, but that of the younger son has never been recovered. The heartbroken mother has left the scene of this terrible disaster to live the balance of her lonely existence as best she can.
This tells the story of merely one case. There are hundreds of others just as tragic. Many will never be told outside the little communities where they occurred. They all speak their part in the appeal of a distracted state to its legislators to let these communities seek their own protection under the guidance of the best law that has ever been put on the statute books of any state.
The story of the Thornton farm will ever stand as a reminder of the fact that legislative interference will cause the delay which might mean another such loss to others through

Pure and Potent OLIVE OIL
Only one kind of Olive Oil should be used and that is the kind that you can be absolutely sure is pure and potent. Such an oil is equally good both as a condiment, salad dressing or as a food. It is the kind of oil your doctor wishes you to take when he recommends Olive Oil for you. It's the kind of oil you will be pleased to serve your guests.
Our Olive Oil will satisfy all your requirements. You'll be absolutely satisfied with it.
BALDWIN'S DRUG STORE
Arlington House Block.
Both Phones 52

A Napoleonic Famine Scare.
Britain was on the verge of a bread famine during the Napoleonic wars, and in 1800 a law was enacted prohibiting the sale of bread till it had been out of the oven at least twenty-four hours. "Food was so scarce and dear," writes F. W. Hackwood, "that a portion of the population refused to starve in silence, and rioting broke out in many parts of England. . . . A royal grant of £500 was made to one Thomas Toden to enable him to prosecute a discovery made by him of a 'paste' as a substitute for wheat flour. . . . The unfortunate seamen fighting Great Britain's battle on the high seas had to subsist on biscuits so badly made that when the weevils were knocked out there often remained nothing but empty shells." A plentiful harvest the following year saved the situation.—London Standard.
If you are particular about your laundry, we will satisfy you. Give our methods a trial. The Larrimer Laundry Co.

THE OLD RELIABLE STILL IN THE LEAD
This is the time of the year to eat fish. We have fine fat mackerel, 10c each, 3 for 25c. Fresh package of new lake herring, 7c per lb., 4 lbs. for 25c. This cuts the high cost of living. Canned tuna fish 15c and 25c per can. Canned salmon, coye oysters, sardines in oil, mustard or tomato sauce. Norway herring in oil or tomato sauce. Fancy bulk oysters, 35c per quart, solid measure. Full line of all kinds of fruits and vegetables. Our No. 1 Rio coffee at 12 1/2 cents per lb. is a winner. Get a bottle of Duffee's Cough Syrup. Big bottle for 25c. Pleasant to take.
J. W. DUFFEE & CO.
The Old Reliable Cash Grocers.
Both phones NO. 77.

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil
15c
CASTOR OILS (The Ancient Kind) Tpsets Your Stomach, But THIS CAN'T CAUSE YOU TO BELCH
Its Super-Refinement Makes It Gentle, Yet Strong
15c a BOTTLE
Blackmer & Tanquary and Leading Druggists Everywhere

MEN WHO ARE BACK OF THE MEN'S 20TH ANNUAL SUPPER

Every Man on Committee Is Urged to Attend Meeting Tonight at Grace Church, From 7:03 to 7:33 O'clock, to Complete Plans For the Men's Supper.

Following is a complete list of those appointed to give the Mens Annual Supper, which will be held at Grace church, Thursday evening:

General Committee.
Will Campbell, chairman; Geo. C. Haynes, 1st vice chairman; Fred M. Mark, treasurer; Charles Gerstner, Earl Barnett Herbert Brownell.

Reception Committee.
Rev. Frederick E. Ross, chairman.
Assistants—Dr. W. E. Ireland, Dr. G. S. Hodson, Dr. D. H. Rowe, Hon. A. R. Creamer, S. W. Cissna, Eli Craig, Wms. Craig, R. H. Harrop, A. T. Baldwin, D. S. Craig, W. N. Eckle, C. R. Dalby, A. C. Patton, C. M. Griffith, Clarke Rowe, S. W. Brown, W. B. Snider, J. C. Dunn, C. A. Stafford, E. A. McCoy, John Neer, W. W. Fennner, Wm. DeWees, George Bybee, W. P. Barnes, Dr. E. C. Hamilton, Dr. L. M. McFadden, Scott Hopkins, Harry F. Brown, Jesse Yeoman, Prof. Davies, Wilson Bachert, Dr. E. P. Todhunter, J. N. Riley, T. H. Craig, C. A. Caye, Lee Des Martin, Dr. P. E. Decatur, Dr. Chas. Sadders, Chas. H. Parrett, Rev. J. L. Dalby, J. A. Melvin, Frank Gilmer, Harlan Vesey, F. M. Clemens, Jesse Blackmer, Geo. W. Moore, Rev. J. S. Griffith, Smith Watson, Geo. B. Wetzel, B. F. Toops, Isaac Cavanaugh.

Music Committee.
Chas. Johnson, chairman.
Dining Room Committee.
J. Earl McLean, chairman.
Clarence Craig, John Durant, Charles W. Armstrong, John Green.

Service Committee.
Charles Karney, Lester Dodds, E. S. Norris, Wm. Ellison, Harry Phillips, Henry Smith.

Carvers.
Harry Rowe, chairman.
Assistants—J. H. Culhan, D. H. Barchet, J. W. Anderson, Edgar Snider.

Chefs.
Earl Barnett, chief of meats; Howard Griffith, chief of potatoes; Walter Hamilton, Bob McLean, chief of biscuits; Art Murray, Virgil Sexton, L. D. Saxton, Sherman Bishop, Walter Hays, Virgil Vincent, Herbert Brownell, assistants.

Ice Cream and Cakes.
Jess Feagans, R. A. Hyer, Dave Ferneau, Charles Marks, Dr. Harry Roberts.

Kitchen Committee.
George Bryan, chairman.
Phil. Rothrock, Harry Taylor, Charles Karney, George Cheney, Henry Sparks.

Cloak Room Committee.
T. W. McFadden, chairman.
A. W. Duff, Al Thornton, Robert McFadden.

Door Keepers.
S. A. Plyley, Arthur Plyley, auditorium; Ralph Penn, dining room.

Advertising Committee.
B. E. Kelley, C. V. Lanum, C. H. Brownell.

Managers Auditorium.
C. E. Lloyd, Henry Brownell, T. N. Craig, Frank Sims, Gilbert Adams, Forest Anders.

Ticket Seller.
Horace Ireland.

Tables.
Walter W. Jones, chairman.
E. N. Holloway, H. R. Rodecker, Wm. Worthington, Foster Lane, B. A. Schadel, Earl Henderson, Jess Millikan.
R. C. Peddicord, chairman.
Orme Brown, Henry Wills, Carl Beck, Leroy Shobe, Charles Caye, Charles Hard.
J. E. Marks, chairman.
Fred Schmidt, Frank Blessing, Hubert Murray, Howard Gray.

Edw. D. Pine, chairman.
Chas. Davis, Chas. Thompson, Frank Thompson, Lloyd Cochenour, Floyd Dowler.

John Merriweather, chairman.
D. T. McLean, Grover Barger, David Parker, Robt. Merriweather, Jas. S. Hays, J. F. Adams, Robert Johnson.

B. E. Kelley, chairman.
Anda Henkle, Wm. Morgan, Moses Gross, Harry Anthoni, Ira O'Brian, W. H. Dial, chairman.
George Sunkel, Arch Riber, John Dial, Robert Sanderson, Willard Wilson.

Charles Gerstner, chairman.
Ray Maddox, John McFadden, Fred Cline, Roy Elliott, Pete Tracey, Elmer Tracey.

Bert Ellis, chairman.
C. E. Morris, Harry Buchanan, G. H. Woodmansee, Loren Seters, Frank Miller, Chas. Highmiller.

O. L. Peart, chairman.
Geo. H. Davis, J. F. Markley, W. L. Vincent, John Maddox, G. E. Kidner.

Wm. Bishop, chairman.
Carl Bishop, Warren Schleich, Clyde Davis, Harley Flee, Charles Stanforth.

Mart L. McCoy, chairman.
Harry Fitzgerald, Alvan Hyer, Herbert Chapman, Emerson Chapman, Ellis Bishop.

Everyone of the foregoing men are urged to meet tonight in the parlors of Grace church at 7:03 p. m. and the session lasts until 7:33 p. m. Mr. Campbell, general chairman, urges every man to be present promptly at 7:03.

SEVERAL CASES ARE TRIED IN MAYOR COFFEY'S COURT

Intoxicated Man Runs Amuck and Attacks Boys—One Man Faces Court Twice—Knife Is Found Upon Man Charged With Intoxication—Chief Issues Edict.

Saturday night and Sunday were unusually busy in police circles, and later Mayor Coffey handed out fines according to the offenses committed. Saturday night Frank Williamson, farm laborer, of near Good Hope, was arrested for destruction of property, having rented a livery rig and brought it back in a damaged condition. It cost him $10.70 to square the case. Sunday night he again was arrested for selling mortgaged property, and it cost him $9.65 to settle the matter. He paid both fines.

Sunday afternoon Arthur Brown, white, ran amuck along the B. & O. railroad near the Fayette Grain elevator. It is alleged that he was intoxicated and very quarrelsome. He struck a couple of boys or young men before he got hold of the wrong persons. He had assaulted a youth by the name of McDonald, and then assaulted one of the two Ross brothers, who promptly took the matter up, and when Brown clinched with one of the young men, the other struck him with a cinder, inflicting a very ugly gash on the side of his face. Brown then was arrested and later taken before Mayor Coffey, who fined him $10 and gave him 30 days in the Xenia work house.

Failing to pay the fine the man was sent back to jail, and, unless the fine is forthcoming within a reasonable length of time, the man will be escorted to the work house to work out the fine and serve the sentence.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN COLUMBUS

Funeral services of Mrs. Nancy Wigginton, aged 86, who died Friday after a long illness, will be held from the residence, 110½ East Main St., at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. Burial will be made in Greenlawn cemetery, with H. G. Steickley, funeral director, in charge. Mrs. Wigginton is survived by two sons, John P., of Washington C. H., and William Wigginton of Columbus, and by two daughters, Mrs. Lillie Crane and Miss Bertha Wigginton.—Ohio State Journal.

Mrs. Wigginton formerly made her home in this city, where she had a large circle of friends.

A young man by the name of Cartwright, residing in the southern part of the city, was arrested by Patrolman Baughn Sunday night. An ugly knife, with four inch blade, was found upon Cartwright, and two charges were placed against him, one for being intoxicated and a second for carrying concealed weapons. Chief Moore Monday morning issued a statement that no interference by bystanders or friends of men being placed under arrest, will be tolerated, and that hereafter such persons will be promptly arrested and fined according to the offense.

WELL KNOWN FARMER CALLED BY DEATH

Mr. Joseph R. White, a well known farmer and life long resident of the Good Hope neighborhood, died at the family home, formerly the Ireland home place, between Good Hope and Lyndon, Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, aged about 52 years.

Mr. White was taken with an attack of grippe several weeks ago, the case developing into an alarming condition that baffled physicians. Dr. Chas. Hamilton was called from Columbus in consultation the last of the week, but no efforts proved successful in reaching the disease.

The deceased was highly esteemed throughout the entire community and will be greatly missed, especially in the pisgah church, of which he had always been a devoted member. He leaves a wife and two sons, William and Laurence. Only three weeks ago a sister, Mrs. Joseph Ard, was buried. Of the large family there survive seven brothers and sisters, Mrs. A. A. Hyer, of this city; Mrs. James W. Cockerill, south of town; Mrs. John Long, of Wellston; Mr. Robert White, of New Martinsburg; Miss Emma, Messrs. Jacob and Charles White, of Greenfield.

Funeral services will be held at the residence Tuesday at 2 p. m. and interment will be made in the Greenfield cemetery.

SPECIAL MEETING.
There will be a called meeting of the Cecilians Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the residence of Mrs. W. P. Barnes. Business of importance. SECY.

RANGE AT AUCTION

I will offer at auction on February 23, at the time of Mr. W. C. Blue's sale at Fuller Hess' barn, one new Wonder cast range No. 8, with 20-inch oven.

R. T. SCOTT, Auct.

THE PALACE THEATER

WILL PRESENT
TUESDAY-WEDNESDAY

Mch. 2-3

"THE SPOILERS"

REX BEACH'S FAMOUS STORY IN NINE REELS

This is positively the largest and greatest motion picture ever shown in this city and commands the highest rental price of any picture ever shown here. This picture held the boards for three solid months at the

STRAND THEATRE, New York City, the largest and finest moving picture theatre in the world and ran two months at Chicago's Classiest Theatre—THE STUDEBAKER

These films are not shipped by express but are in charge of a special representative for the Selig Motion Picture Corp., the producers of this masterpiece. THE SPOILERS will be shown at the ORPHEUM THEATRE in CINCINNATI, O., Friday and Saturday of this week. Owing to the expenses incurred in presenting this colossal masterpiece the admission price will be

25c for all seats. Matinee both days 2:15, sharp

REVIVAL SERVICES CHURCH OF CHRIST

There began, yesterday what promises to be one of the best evangelistic meetings the church has ever held. There was a good attendance at all the services and at the evening service the house was filled to almost the entire seating capacity.

The first half hour was devoted to a memorial song service for Fanny J. Crosby. All the songs used being of her production.

The large audience was deeply interested in the sermon by the pastor-evangelist, Bowman Hostetler, on "Make His Paths Straight." There was one response to the gospel invitation.

The subject of the sermon this evening is "Delusions." Meeting begins promptly at 7:30.

A men's prayer meeting will be held from 7:10 to 7:25 in the Christian Endeavor room. All men are invited to be present.

"Why Men Do Not Go to Church" will be the subject for Tuesday evening.

INTERESTING RELICS FEATURE ANNIVERSARY

Much interest attached to the seventy-fifth anniversary of the First Baptist church, held in remembrance at the regular church service Sunday morning.

Rev. West briefly recalled the early history of the church. It was organized in the Presbyterian church and afterwards the congregation worshiped in the court house until the building of the first church, which was destroyed in the cyclone of '85. The first pastor was Rev. Thos. Goodwin in 1844, and Rev. A. D. Freeman acted as moderator when the church was organized.

A number of old pictures of the now all passed away, etc., as well as original church, the charter members relics and old records were on exhibition.

Among the relics was the original communion set, the contribution plates of pewter, and the original chairs.

LOCAL FIRMS LAND SPRINGFIELD CONTRACT

Contracts for the construction of the new Inskeep Manufacturing Company's plant in Springfield, have been awarded to local firms, Mr. Fred Swartz obtaining the contract for the brick work, and Mr. Grover Barger the carpenter work.

The building will be 70 by 100 feet, two stories in height with brick walls upon concrete foundation. The work of laying brick will be started some time next month.

FIVE CENTS PROVES IT

A Generous Offer. Cut out the ad, enclose with 5 cents to Foley Co., Chicago, Ill., and they will send you our trial packages of Foley Honey and Tar Compound for coughs, croup, bronchial and laryngeal troubles; Foley Kidney Pills and Foley Cathartic Tablets. For sale in your town by Blackmer & Tanquary.

Clean bed clothes bring rest and comfort. Try us. Bell 188 W. C. 521. The Larrimer Laundry Co.

TONIGHT

THE MAN OF MANY MYSTERIES

PROF. LAURANT

And Company

Fourth Number of Lecture Course

A Rare Entertainment At Grace Church

Doors open at 7 P.M

Entertainment at 8 P. M

Men's 20th Annual Supper!

Grace Church, Thursday Night

MENU

PEANUT-FED TURKEY

PICKLES

BAKED HAM

BAKED BEANS

HOT BAKED POTATOES

HOT BISCUIT

ROLLS

BOSTON BROWN BREAD

APPLE BUTTER CREAMERY BUTTER

BRICK ICE CREAM

CAKE

COFFEE

MAN-PLANNED

MAN-COOKED

MAN-SERVED

Musical Program

VOCAL SOLOS

Miss Edith Gardner, Miss Ada Woodward

Mr. L. L. Bowman, Mr. Carl Summers

QUARTETTE

Horace Ireland,

E. H. Burch

J. H. Hicks

Dr. L. P. Howell

PIPE ORGAN

Miss Minnie Light

ORCHESTRA

Miss Kessler

Miss Ryan

Messrs. Shasteen, Smith, Kneisley,

Whelpley, May, Miller, Speaks, Johnson

Trombone, Cornet and Violin Solos

MAN-PLANNED

(Women Loyally Assisting)

Admission : : 25 cents

Numbered Tickets Issued at Door. 1500 Plates Exactly Alike

PUBLIC CORDIALLY INVITED

Wesleyan Glee Club!

HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

FRIDAY EVE., FEB. 26

EIGHT O'CLOCK

SEATS ON SALE AT TUTTLE'S 25c AT AUDITORIUM EVENING OF CONCERT 35c

G. A. R. HALL
Wednesday, Feb. 24
EIGHT P. M.

Ladies' Gym Class Exhibition

Featuring Will Taylor, A. A. U. Junior Athletic Champion and James Kneisley, Blind Gymnast.
Seats on sale at Baldwins and Y. M. C. A.

General Admission
25c
RESERVED 35c

COLONIAL THEATRE

HIS BROTHER BILL Lubin Two-Reel Drama
Adventure of The Lost Wife
Edison Comedy

Wednesday—5th episode of Runaway June
Thursday—One Wonderful Night, featuring Francis X. Bushman.

In Social Circles

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Worthington entertained with an elaborate dinner Sunday.
The table decorations of sweet peas and fern were most artistic.
Seated with the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rowe and Miss Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Calvert, Miss Ethel Calvert, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Blessing, Mr. Foster Winkle, Edith and Jean Worthington.
The beautiful country home of Mrs. Frank Dill on the Jeffersonville pike, was the scene of a most enjoyable dinner Sunday.
Easter flowers were in graceful arrangement and an elegant course dinner served.

Mrs. Dill was assisted in the hospitalities by her son, Mr. Hays Dill, and daughter, Dorothy.
The guests included Hon. and Mrs. Reuben Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. Val McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hagler and children, Miss Mary Robinson, Messrs Howard Hagler and George Robinson.
Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Belle Pauline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Pauline, 24 East Eighth avenue, and Dr. Russell E. Rebrassier, in the employ of the Ohio Agricultural Commission and located at present at Washington C. H.—Ohio State Journal.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Miss Vera V. Veal left for Chillicothe Saturday evening to be the guest of her cousin, Miss Elsie Stitt, until Tuesday.
Mr. E. E. Brown, of Ashville, N. C., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Parrett, on the Prairie pike, enroute from Newark, where he has been visiting his daughter, over Sunday.
Mr. James Whelpley and daughter, Marion, are spending a couple of days with friends in Mt. Sterling.
Misses Elsie and Edna Limon, of Washington C. H., came to this city on Saturday, to attend the funeral of Miss Catherine Jones, who died on Thursday at the hospital.—Saturday Scioto Gazette.
Mrs. H. H. Whelpley went to Marysville Sunday to attend the funeral of Mr. Shearer.
Mrs. Oscar Aumiller, who has been visiting Misses Lida and May Skinner, returned the last of the week to her home in Nelsonville.
George B. Bitzer, of this city, was a business visitor in the town of Washington C. H. on Friday.—Saturday Scioto Gazette.

Mrs. M. J. Clifton has been seriously ill with the gripe the past week, her condition slightly improved today.
Miss Faith Warner returned Sunday from Cleveland, where she has been attending the spring wholesale millinery openings.
Mrs. Anna Jones entertained over Sunday Misses Dorothea McDowell and Lois Thomas, of Bloomingburg, over Sunday.
Taylor Mitchener who was called from his home in Van Wert to the home of his sister, Mrs. Tasso Post, by the death of his mother, Mrs. Eliza Mitchener, returned to Van Wert Saturday.
Washington friends are very glad to learn that Mrs. Arthur Findlay, of Yellow Springs, who recently underwent a serious operation at McClellan's hospital, in Xenia, is recovering nicely.
Frank Thornton is down from the O. S. U. for Washington's birthday.
Miss Lucile Chapman returned Monday evening from Delaware, where she has been the guest of Miss Majorie Galvin at the O. W. U., for the Washington's birthday celebration.

Mrs. G. M. Paul returned the last of the week from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Will Enderlin, in Chillicothe.
Cecil Hays came down from the O. S. U. Saturday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hays, over Washington's birthday.

Miss Bertha Burnett, formerly teacher in the public schools of this city, and now connected with the East Cleveland schools, was the guest of Mrs. G. S. Hodson over Sunday, going to Columbus to be the guest of Mrs. C. C. Pavey Monday.

Mrs. S. M. Templeton, of Greenfield, is visiting her son, Dr. A. M. Bush and wife.

Mrs. Fanny Ballard returned to Cincinnati Saturday after spending several weeks at the home of her son, Mr. Pearce Ballard and family.

Mr. Joe Duffy, of Circleville, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Snider the last of the week.

Mr. W. W. Westerfield arrived from New Orleans, La., Saturday evening to attend to business interests here.

Miss Margaret Fullerton was down from Columbus spending Sunday.

Mrs. Frank A. Chaffin was a week end visitor in Columbus to attend art exhibits of Maurice Hague, well known artist and at the Art club.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ducey and children, and Mrs. Jos. Butcher visited in Columbus Sunday.

Mr. Thos. Hillery and son, Fred, were the guests of relatives in Greenfield Sunday.

Mr. Tolen E. Brown spent Monday in Columbus.

Mr. Frank Weaver, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tasso Post, returned to Columbus Saturday, his wife remaining with her sister.

Clerk of Courts and Mrs. E. W. Durlinger, accompanied by Mr. Durlinger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Durlinger, of Yatesville, motored to London Sunday, where they spent the day with Mrs. Mark Blue, who has been seriously ill for some time.

Prosecuting Attorney Tom S. Maddox went to Dayton this morning where he will be engaged today and tomorrow in the trial of a case in the Common Pleas court of Montgomery county.

Mrs. A. A. Hyer is at the White home below Good Hope, called by the death of her brother, Mr. Jos. R. White.

Mrs. R. O. Young attended the Washington's birthday Chi Psi Delta banquet at Denison university Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Howard, of Circleville, are the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Willard Story and family.

Miss Clara Gross visited Mr. and Mrs. Leo Katz in Columbus Sunday.

Miss Alice Looftbourrow was the guest of O. W. U. friends in Delaware for the Washington's birthday celebration.

Mrs. Ray Maynard returned Sunday night from a visit in Greenfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Groves Morris are announcing the birth of a daughter at the home of Mrs. Morris' parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Rowe.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Daugherty are in Columbus for the day.

Mr. John P. Wigginton was called to Columbus the last of the week by the death of his mother, Mrs. Nancy Wigginton.

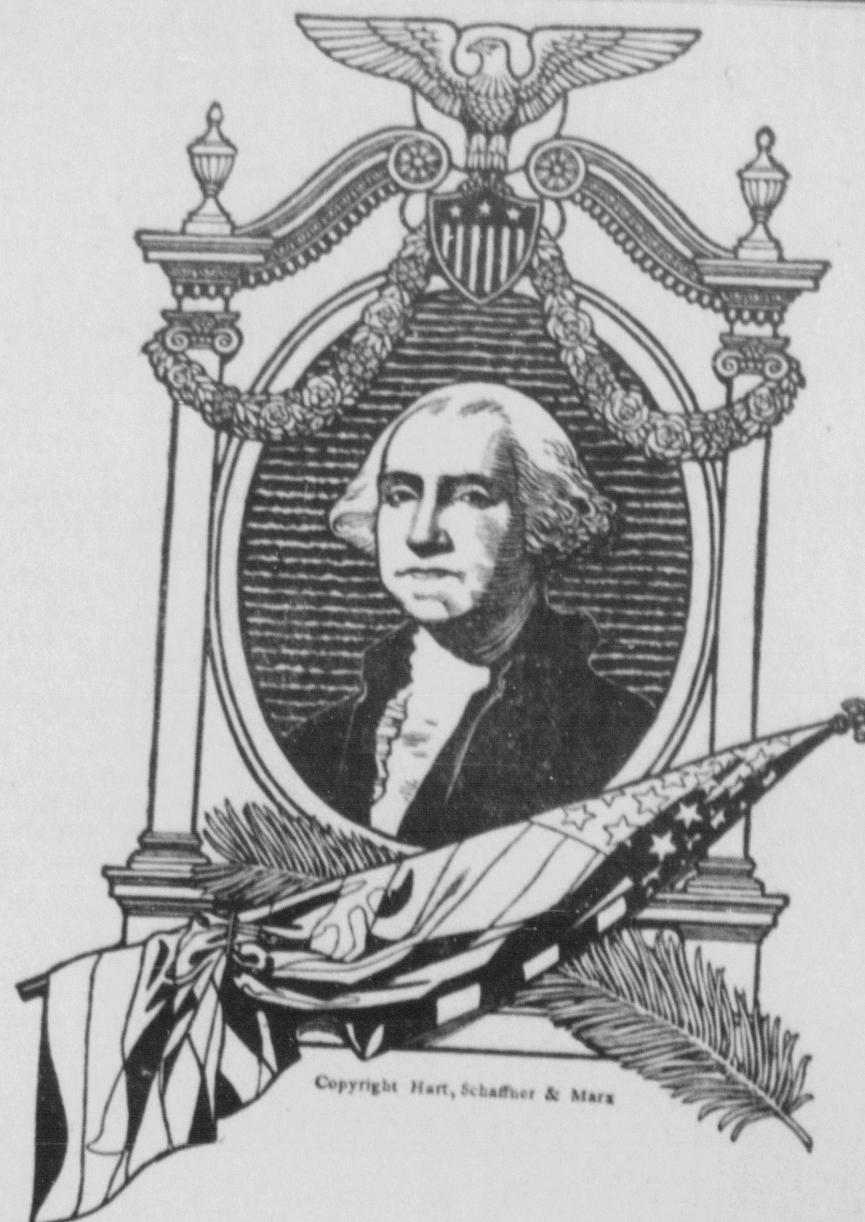

FREE!

Two Complete Instruction Books

Tells How to Develop and Print EVERY STEP EXPLAINED

Anso Films Cyko Paper

Delbert C. Hays

Copyright Hart, Schaffner & Marx

Feb. 22nd - Washington's Birthday

The great armies of the world now engaged in a mighty war, with all their heroic achievements, cannot show greater deeds than were accomplished by the handful of untrained men with whom Washington fought "to a standstill" the most powerful nation, at that time, in the world.

Like the man with the broken sword, Washington showed what could be done with insufficient resources, combined with an unquenchable will to succeed. That phase of his career is a perpetual lesson to his countrymen: The will to succeed is, after all, the basis and source of the best success; and today the greatest business enterprises have become great by it, more than by anything else.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

are an example of it; and their clothing is an expression of what can be done in that particular field. We are trying in this business to show the same quality in selling goods as they show in making them.

CRAIG BROS

The home of Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes

5c The Palace 5c TONIGHT

MARY FULLER assisted by CHAS. OGLE in
"THE HEART OF THE NIGHT WIND"
Victor drama in two parts

"THE TRICKY FLUNKY" Some Comedy

Coming Tomorrow—101 Bison—101

"THE BRAND OF HIS TRIBE"

Featuring WM. CLIFFORD & MARIE WALCAMP
MARY PICKFORD IN HIS GRATITUDE Imp Drama

Coming Wednesday—Matinee 2:30—5 parts

A TRIP TO NEW YORK

Coming March 2d and 3d—two days

THE SPOILERS by Rex Beach. Nuf sed.

5c THE PALACE 5c

Messrs. H. H. Sanderson and Ray Sanderson were business visitors in Columbus Monday.

Mr. William Worthington spent Monday in Columbus.

Mr. William Worthington spent Monday in Columbus.

Miss Jennie Clark spent Sunday in Columbus owing to the death of Mrs. Nancy Wigginton.

The Old Songs concert, to be given by the M. H. G. girls, at the Presbyterian church on March 5th, promises to afford a genuine musical treat and one of the most attractive concerts of the season.

Chas. L. Dinkler, 24, farmer, of Madison county, and Blanche Helsel, 23. Justice T. N. Craig.

CLASSIFIED

WANTED—Ditchers. Call Chas. C. McCoy, Jeffersonville pike. Bell phone 201 R. 4. 44 6t

FOR SALE—Remington typewriter, cheap. Call Citizens' phone 338. 44 6t

FOR SALE—Buff Orpington cockerels and pullets. Mrs. Patrick Clancey, Citz. phone 155. 44 6t

FOR SALE—Furniture, good as new; owner leaving city. 423 East Paint street. 44 6t

WANTED—Painting and paper hanging. Wyatt Underwood, 1044 Rawlings St. 44 6t

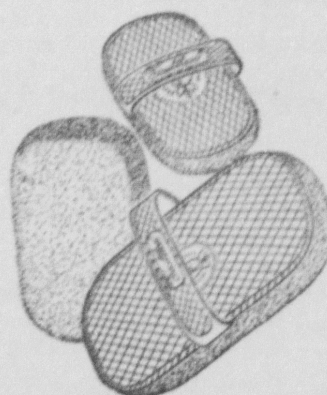

ACCUSED MEN FURNISH BOND

Carey McGonagle, accused of assault and battery and Carl H. McGonagle, indicted for cutting with intent to kill, were arraigned in Common Pleas court Saturday afternoon, entered pleas of not guilty, and furnished bonds in the sum of $100 and $300, respectively, for their appearance for trial at a later date.

The men were indicted following trouble between them and Peter Rodgers, some two weeks ago.

Anybody can fill a room full of shoe machinery and call it a big shoe shop. That is what you call four-flushing. There is no four-flushing about Duffee. He can show you. Umbrellas recovered and repaired. We give rebate stamps. Next door to Adams Express office. 44 6t

For A Better Complexion

One of our FAULTLESS Rubber Sponge Brushes will benefit your skin and keep your complexion in its best condition. Slightly rough sponge surface massages the skin. Use one daily and see the improvement.

Sizes to Fit Your Hand

Christopher
Yellow Front

Drugs

That's My Business

FIFTH EPISODE.

A Woman in Trouble.

CHAPTER I.

FAT old black Aunt Debby was dressed in her best marketing clothes, the green percale with the big yellow flowers, and the little blue hat with the nodding red poppies was set far forward on her kinkless wig. The marketing trip to the city had been one of Aunt Debby's chief joys, but today the buoyancy and the high pitched laugh of excitement were absent.

"You'll stop at Ned's for Mr. Moore, Debby," said Mrs. Moore.

"Yassum," Aunt Debby stole a glance at June's portrait on the wall. "You—you ain't heard nothin' yet of Miss June?"

At the sound of that name Bouncer rose instantly, head up, ears perked, tail wagging, eyes eager, mouth open. He was at the window with his paws on the sill and ready to bark. He whined instead and dropped his paws to the floor.

Where was June? That puzzling problem filled the entire mind of Aunt Debby as by the side of the driver she span into the city in the Moore limousine. And that puzzling problem filled the entire mind of John Moore as he sat in his office.

Today the Buoyancy and High Pitched Laugh Were Absent.

Where was June? A dozen private detectives were scouring the city of New York for her, and they reported to a stern faced young man who sat in the lonely apartments which June and he had fitted up to be their nest, his only companion a miniature of his lovely bride.

Where was June? Who was this mysterious Gilbert Blye? What was his power over Ned Warner's bride?

Ned seized his hat and strode forth into the streets in his never ending search for June.

At that moment the door of a strange house had slammed abruptly behind beautiful June Warner. And Gilbert Blye had furnished this address to June's employment agency.

A blonde looking page girl inspected June impudently in the dim light of the hall, then with a significant grin left June standing there and swaggered through a door at the end of the hall. June was startled as that door opened and a blaze of light came out with the chatter of many shrill voices. In there, amid wreaths of curling blue smoke, moved handsomely gownned women, and many of them nonchalantly puffed at cigarettes. At that instant the smiling Gilbert Blye's key grated in the lock.

A large yellow haired woman came hurrying from the salon with June's employment agency card in her hand. "Right this way, honey," she rasped in a voice to which the honey was foreign, and she led the way to a small side room at the left of the salon. As June reluctantly entered the strangely furnished little room at the left Gilbert Blye came in at the front door.

With a smile upon his lips and glinting in his dark eyes he hurried straight back toward the little room in which stood June, now alone and frightened.

At that instant a huge, clumsy maid came tumbling up from the basement, followed by a puff of yellow smoke. With her eyes distended and her mouth open, ready for the yell of "Fire!" she rushed to the door of the salon, but before she could reach it Gilbert Blye had her roughly by the arm and pushed her through the door which led to the basement. He stood staring at the smoke which came curling ominously through that opening, glanced again toward June's room and dashed down the stairs.

That was a strangely furnished little room in which June found herself. There were two desks and a filing cabinet and some office chairs, but there were a luxurious couch and pink damask hangings, a soft rug and pink paneled walls and ceiling. It was all so incongruous. And the work—it was queer too. The yellow haired woman came in from the parlor presently and explained the posting into small blank books of many memorandum slips. Each slip contained the name of a woman and a sum of money. There were no slips for men, but there were index cards about men. June puzzled as to what sort of business this might be.

The page girl wished in with one of the memorandum slips. The yellow head, whose face was puffy and more highly colored than was wholesome, took the slip, looked at the name on it, frowned, shook her head and went out with the girl. She entered the salon and stood surveying the scene with cold abstraction. Around a long table sat the women whom June had seen. They all had cards in front of them and stacks of playing chips, and a raw-boned woman sitting on a higher chair than the rest was dealing. The yellow haired woman fixed her attention on the gambler next to the dealer. She was a fluffy blond with a feverish glitter in her eyes, and she was bent so intently upon the fall of the cards that she did not notice the door open and close.

Poor June! She glanced about her with growing repugnance. She was abjectly miserable, and suddenly she was sobbing.

Ned! Why had she run away from him?

In the gambling room the fluffy blond who had played so feverishly staked and lost the last chip in front of her. She turned impatiently to look for the page girl. She met instead the cold, hard eye of the yellow haired woman, who quietly motioned her. The player rose reluctantly, and fright came into her face as she followed into the hall and to the little office where June had been installed.

"You've reached the limit, Mrs. Perry," announced the yellow haired woman, turning on the unlucky one sharply as she closed the door. Here is the I. O. U. Belle brought to me. I have not O. K'd it."

"It's only for $50," faltered Mrs. Perry.

"I wouldn't O. K. it for 50 cents," snapped the other. "Now, I want action. You'll telephone your husband from this room."

"No, no!" The woman wrung her hands. "I'll talk to him tonight!"

"I know that game," she scorned, and from June's desk she took an index card.

"Eight-o-eight-o Garden," she told the new secretary. "Ask for Mr. Perry, and say that his wife wishes to speak with him."

"No!" cried Mrs. Perry hysterically, and reached over June's shoulder to take the phone. The new secretary had made no move toward the phone. She was staring at the yellow haired woman in astonishment. That determined person was not one to wrangle in emergencies. She snatched up the phone herself and called the number.

"You women think I'm a mark," she scornfully stated to Mrs. Perry while she waited. "You'd sting me for a thousand dollars rather than sting your husband for it. See this card?" She held it out. It contained the name of Jackson W. Perry, his business address, his home address, his financial rating, probable income, clubs and telephone numbers. And the unfortunate Mrs. Perry seemed to shrink into hopeless despair as she realized the implacable organization against which she had pitted herself. "Mr. Perry, please."

The yellow haired woman's voice had undergone a complete change. It was very pleasant of inflection, though it rasped. "His wife wishes to speak with him."

She handed over the telephone, and June, seeing Mrs. Perry's uneasiness, rose and compassionately gave the woman her chair. The yellow haired one walked calmly over to her own desk and took up the extension phone.

June looked at her hat and coat. She seemed quite bewildered. She could not quite understand what this was all about, but she did know that it was all unpleasant and heartless and degrading. She was starting to go when something on Mrs. Perry's face touched her sympathies and held her.

"Yes, it's Gwen," trembled Mrs. Perry, her nervous fingers clutching desperately to keep the quaver from her voice. "I—I hope I haven't interrupted anything important."

"Not very." The man's voice could be heard distinctly outside the phone.

"Jack"—the voice was full of pleading—"I—I have to have some money."

The frown of the yellow haired woman deepened as she listened to the man's reply.

"I know it's a week before my allowance is due," urged Mrs. Perry, and now she turned her eyes imploringly toward the stony, yellow haired one.

"But I just must have it! Eight hundred dollars!"

The man's voice boomed an incredulous exclamation over the wire; then a sharp question.

"Why—why, it's to pay bills! Yes, yes, Jack, I know I was supposed to keep them paid out of my allowance! I didn't want to tell you this until we could sit down quietly together, only they're pressing me for payment! And the allowance isn't enough, Jackson! Yes, I know you've raised it—oh!"

The man's heavy voice had interrupted her calmly, coldly. She sank back limply in the chair.

June hung up the receiver. She was surprised to see the yellow haired woman put up her own phone and come across the room with a benign expression.

"Cheer up," she advised. "Hubby's all right."

Mrs. Perry straightened up.

"Yes," she said and moistened her lips. "he said that he'd go over those bills with me tonight."

"I heard him myself." And the yellow haired woman grinned across at June. "Here's your I. O. U., dearie. I've O. K'd it. You better go in and play awhile for your nerves."

The terrified little blond looked up incredulously. It was as if she had been given a drink of some strong stimulant, and she clutched eagerly at the memorandum slip. Perhaps with that she could win back all that she had lost!

"Thank you!" she gasped and hurried from the room.

The other woman grabbed her phone. "Eight-o-eight-o Garden!" she called.

"Hello! Mr. Perry, please. This is his wife's friend."

June moved for her hat and coat.

"Hello, Mr. Perry! Say, your wife is at 48 Kingsley court gambling, and she's going to be exposed in half an hour if you aren't here to pay her debts."

The man at the other end of the wire apparently took a moment to gasp for breath; then the wire boomed.

"All right, bring the police if you want," snapped the yellow haired woman. "I guess I can stand the notoriety if you and your wife can. And, say, checks don't go. Bring cash. It's eight-fifty now."

June stood aghast. A gambling house!

CHAPTER II.

ON the corner near Mrs. O'Keefe's home Officer Dowd walked over to lift his cap politely and to help Marie across the street with her empty market basket. Two blocks up Officer Dowd carried her basket two blocks off his beat to where Officer Kernan held up the traffic both ways while she described the chicken potpie she intended to make for dinner. All this was, first, because the Widow O'Keefe's husband had been the most popular man on the force and, second, because Marie, plain of feature though she was, had found in herself an unexpected knack for pleasing policemen.

In the market June's maid, companion and protector wandered from stall to stall, selecting her tiny purchases of fruit and vegetables. She was just deciding on the tremendously important selection of the chicken itself when suddenly an avalanche of flaming color fell upon her and a voice cried:

"You, Marie? What's Miss June? I say, what's Miss June?"

Aunt Debby! Her two fat black hands were gripped on Marie's arm. A crowd began to gather immediately. Marie straightened herself stiffly.

"I do not know you!" she declared.

"You don't know me!" Aunt Debby wheezed, her broad bosom jumping up and down. "You say you don't know me! Ain't I Debby? Ain't you Marie?"

Marie with a sudden jerk freed herself from that earnest grasp and would have been far down the street had it not been for the thickening crowd. Aunt Debby, plunging forward with unbelievable agility, threw both arms around her.

"What's the matter here?" The gruff voice of a big policeman.

"I want that woman took in charge!" panted Aunt Debby, and she rolled her eyes.

"Oh, you do!" And the officer of the law turned on Marie an eye which was perfectly ready to be suspicious in spite of its disinclination. "What's the charge?"

The voice of Aunt Debby rose shrilly triumphant:

"She done stole my pocketbook!"

"Was Marie's turn to look astounded. "Oh, she did! When? Here in the market?"

"Yas, sir, she did. Right up hyah at the chicken stand!"

"Well, what's that on your arm?" And Aunt Debby's eyes dropped as she saw the stern gaze of the policeman fixed on the rusty old hand bag which gripped her thick forearm. She had forgotten that detail in her planning. "Open it up," ordered the officer, who opened it himself. It had bills and silver in it, Aunt Debby's reading spectacles and her farsighted ones, some peppermint lozenges, brunette face powder and a tea biscuit.

"Well—well—well!" gulped Aunt Debby, her eyes batting. "She done stole my other pocketbook!"

"That's enough!" growled the officer. "No negro ever had two pocketbooks. What have you got to say, miss?" And he was quite respectful to Marie.

"I don't know her, Mr. Officer," smiled Marie.

"You, Marie," screamed Aunt Debby, "you say you don't know me?"

"Go on about your business," ordered the big policeman.

"I don't leave this spot without that girl!" declared Aunt Debby, planting her fists on her hips and spreading her feet apart. Then the outraged majesty of the law asserted itself.

"Hey, Billy! Call the wagon!" it yelled.

"Please don't arrest her!" begged Marie.

She was too late; the wagon had been called.

"Sorry, miss," said the officer who had first interfered, "but this party went too far." And he turned to help toss the culprit in.

"Oh, Mr. Dowd!" The voice of Marie was suddenly bright and care free.

The three policemen who had been assisting Aunt Debby turned quickly as Officer Dowd pushed smilingly through the crowd to the side of Marie.

"What's the trouble?" he inquired.

Marie whispered her explanation.

"Let the smoke go, boys," requested Officer Dowd carelessly. "It's all a mistake."

"Now you hike!" ordered the policeman and gave Aunt Debby a poke in the ribs.

Slowly she waddled to the chicken market, where she found her basket intact in the stall of the poultryman, and slowly she walked up a block to the adjacent avenue, where stood the Moore limousine.

"Jerry," she called as she climbed breathlessly to her seat by the driver, "I done seed Marie! And what she goes Miss June is!"

The car was already started.

"Where?" asked Jerry, all quivering eagerness.

Aunt Debby's eyes rolled. She could talk no more, but she made a circular motion with her hand, and Jerry understood.

There seemed to be small profit in circulating, and after a few minutes of this tedious process Aunt Debby, who seemed to be tremendously prolific of ideas today, said:

"Mistah Ned!"

To Ned's they drove, and within five minutes after Aunt Debby's excited report Ned Warner and John Moore and three long and lanky detectives were headed for the market, with Jerry and Aunt Debby up in front. At that point they scattered, and it was Ned whose inquiries after Marie led all the way to Officer Dowd.

A HEAVY jawed, firm mouthed, square headed and level eyed man stopped at the door of 48 Kingsley court and rang the bell with a vigorous jerk.

"Mr. Perry," he announced bluntly.

"Yes, sir," replied the impudent page girl, by no means abashed, and she threw open the parlor door. "Right in here." She grinned as she switched on the lights for him and saw that he was oppressed by the fact of the drawn curtains.

The yellow haired woman found him standing solidly in the center of the room, facing the door.

"Where is my wife?" he loudly demanded.

"Don't bark at me!" snapped the yellow haired woman.

The man abated none of its intensity as he repeated his demand.

"In a minute." The yellow haired woman was quite calm and collected. "I don't mind turning over a parlor to settle a domestic scrap, but I want my bill settled first. Eight-fifty."

"How do I know that she is guilty of gambling? How do I know that she is here?"

The woman's lip curled.

"Want to see her with the goods? Well, Jackson, if you'll promise to behave I'll show her to you through a peephole."

The man's fists clinched convulsively. "You'd better pass over my eight-fifty first," said the yellow haired woman.

"Just a minute, please." A sweet voice, low, gentle, cultured—no such voice as the man had expected to hear in this place. He was equally impressed when he turned and saw the beautiful young girl who had glided through the rear door, her face full of serious purpose.

"Who rang for you?" snapped the yellow haired woman, her eyes flaming with instant resentment.

"I stayed in this house for no other reason than to see Mr. Perry," announced June, with no trace of timidity about her.

"What do you know about this?"

"Mrs. Perry is in deep trouble and needs your help."

"She had no reason to be in trouble. I give my wife an ample allowance." The man turned from June.

"You give it." Across June's mind there flashed again the whole of her own vital problem—that whatever the wife has must come from the husband in the nature of charity. She saw herself again as the piteous little beggar before Ned, whom she loved, and she saw Mrs. Perry in that same attitude before this stern husband. "What right have you to call it a gift?"

The man stopped and turned to June with a puzzled brow. She had set astr in him a new thought.

"This angel of mercy stuff is bad for profits," rasped the voice of the yellow head. "But I can't overlook a chance like this. I know your kind, Jackson Perry. You give your wife an allowance that covers everything but emergencies. You figure the plumber to come in three times a year, and if he comes in four she loses. If she has a mad passion to treat a few of her friends to ice cream sodas she has to wait till next month's allowance day. If she ever saved $25 you'd reduce her pay. I'll bet this poor little wife of yours first got into trouble through

"You, Marie," screamed Aunt Debby, "you say you don't know me?"

"Go on about your business," ordered the big policeman.

"I don't leave this spot without that girl!" declared Aunt Debby, planting her fists on her hips and spreading her feet apart. Then the outraged majesty of the law asserted itself.

"Hey, Billy! Call the wagon!" it yelled.

"Please don't arrest her!" begged Marie.

She was too late; the wagon had been called.

"Sorry, miss," said the officer who had first interfered, "but this party went too far." And he turned to help toss the culprit in.

"Oh, Mr. Dowd!" The voice of Marie was suddenly bright and care free.

The three policemen who had been assisting Aunt Debby turned quickly as Officer Dowd pushed smilingly through the crowd to the side of Marie.

"What's the trouble?" he inquired.

Marie whispered her explanation.

"Let the smoke go, boys," requested Officer Dowd carelessly. "It's all a mistake."

"Now you hike!" ordered the policeman and gave Aunt Debby a poke in the ribs.

Slowly she waddled to the chicken market, where she found her basket intact in the stall of the poultryman, and slowly she walked up a block to the adjacent avenue, where stood the Moore limousine.

"Jerry," she called as she climbed breathlessly to her seat by the driver, "I done seed Marie! And what she goes Miss June is!"

The car was already started.

"Where?" asked Jerry, all quivering eagerness.

Aunt Debby's eyes rolled. She could talk no more, but she made a circular motion with her hand, and Jerry understood.

There seemed to be small profit in circulating, and after a few minutes of this tedious process Aunt Debby, who seemed to be tremendously prolific of ideas today, said:

"Mistah Ned!"

To Ned's they drove, and within five minutes after Aunt Debby's excited report Ned Warner and John Moore and three long and lanky detectives were headed for the market, with Jerry and Aunt Debby up in front. At that point they scattered, and it was Ned whose inquiries after Marie led all the way to Officer Dowd.

A HEAVY jawed, firm mouthed, square headed and level eyed man stopped at the door of 48 Kingsley court and rang the bell with a vigorous jerk.

"Mr. Perry," he announced bluntly.

"Yes, sir," replied the impudent page girl, by no means abashed, and she threw open the parlor door. "Right in here." She grinned as she switched on the lights for him and saw that he was oppressed by the fact of the drawn curtains.

The yellow haired woman found him standing solidly in the center of the room, facing the door.

"Where is my wife?" he loudly demanded.

"Don't bark at me!" snapped the yellow haired woman.

The man abated none of its intensity as he repeated his demand.

"In a minute." The yellow haired woman was quite calm and collected. "I don't mind turning over a parlor to settle a domestic scrap, but I want my bill settled first. Eight-fifty."

"How do I know that she is guilty of gambling? How do I know that she is here?"

The woman's lip curled.

"Want to see her with the goods? Well, Jackson, if you'll promise to behave I'll show her to you through a peephole."

The man's fists clinched convulsively. "You'd better pass over my eight-fifty first," said the yellow haired woman.

"Just a minute, please." A sweet voice, low, gentle, cultured—no such voice as the man had expected to hear in this place. He was equally impressed when he turned and saw the beautiful young girl who had glided through the rear door, her face full of serious purpose.

"Who rang for you?" snapped the yellow haired woman, her eyes flaming with instant resentment.

"I stayed in this house for no other reason than to see Mr. Perry," announced June, with no trace of timidity about her.

"What do you know about this?"

"Mrs. Perry is in deep trouble and needs your help."

"She had no reason to be in trouble. I give my wife an ample allowance." The man turned from June.

"You give it." Across June's mind there flashed again the whole of her own vital problem—that whatever the wife has must come from the husband in the nature of charity. She saw herself again as the piteous little beggar before Ned, whom she loved, and she saw Mrs. Perry in that same attitude before this stern husband. "What right have you to call it a gift?"

The man stopped and turned to June with a puzzled brow. She had set astr in him a new thought.

"This angel of mercy stuff is bad for profits," rasped the voice of the yellow head. "But I can't overlook a chance like this. I know your kind, Jackson Perry. You give your wife an allowance that covers everything but emergencies. You figure the plumber to come in three times a year, and if he comes in four she loses. If she has a mad passion to treat a few of her friends to ice cream sodas she has to wait till next month's allowance day. If she ever saved $25 you'd reduce her pay. I'll bet this poor little wife of yours first got into trouble through losing $2 in a friendly penny auction game, and she's been trying to overtake it ever since."

A gentle hand was laid on the man's arm.

"You will help her?" The low, sweet voice was full of more than appeal; it was full of trust and confidence.

There was a slight convulsive heaving of Perry's shoulders, but that was all. He drew out a pocketbook and counted some money into the yellow haired woman's hand.

"Now, bring Gwen to me," he said, and his voice had no harshness, his eyes no sternness, his smile no bitterness.

With moist eyes June hurried from the room. She was glad that she had stayed here, glad that she had come, very glad indeed, but now she was in

ried down the cross street. At an irregular corner, where half a dozen dingy streets and alleys plunged together, and apparently dizzied by the less off, June met on a narrow crossing a being fairly jiggling with alcohol. Her heart popped into her throat, and she was about to turn back, for she would have died rather than to have brushed clothes with the object, when the creature, catching sight of her, immediately stepped far over into the mud, jerked off his battered cap and with it made a courtesy so sweeping that he was unable to rise up for five minutes afterward.

That was enough for one day, and June ran down the street, past the little fountain, into the sanctuary of the Widow O'Keefe's house, up the two flights of stairs and dropped into the wicker chair.

"Slippers," was all she said.

Marie was on her knees in an instant, showing every gum.

"Aunt Debby!" she cried, and from then on until long after the wonderful chicken potpie had been consumed the conversation flowed with never an ebb.

It was good to have found a refuge like this. It seemed far, far away from the New York which these two knew, and it was as if no one could ever find them here. They were safe. Safe!

Is one ever safe? As Ned Warner stood trying vainly to extract information from Officer Dowd June's car flashed by him and he caught a glimpse of her.

Officer Dowd was astonished to have his particularly insistent question stop abruptly in the middle of a sentence and go dashing madly after a street car. In half a block the young man gave up that absurd chase.

The traffic thickened just beyond, so that for three or four blocks Ned was able to keep sight of the car as it stopped and started. Finally it was blocked, and Ned was able to catch up with it. June was no longer among the passengers!

"There was a girl on your car wearing a fur cap with a green tassel!" breathlessly said Ned to the conductor.

"Bet your life."

"Where did she leave your car?"

"On the track."

Ned dropped off the car, left to his own logic. June had alighted somewhere within these last two blocks. One going farther west would in all probability have taken a more convenient car line. To the east lay a tenement district of old, small houses. On the chance Ned struck east.

"Have you seen a girl wearing a fur cap with a green tassel?"

The young man with the yellow derby over one ear shifted his cigarette.

"I'll be the Patsy. What's the answer?"

He asked that question of countless people. On a corner where half a dozen streets and alleys had staggered themselves by running into each other Ned found a human being swaying gently in the breeze.

"Have you seen—"

Ned stopped after one glance into that vacuous face and one whiff from that far from vacuous breath.

"Pipe up, pal," husked the jiggled one. Ned went over his formula.

"Have you seen a girl wearing a fur cap with a green tassel?"

"Well, what do you think of that?" And it stopped swaying for a moment.

Blye Had Dashed After Her.

"A guy with black whiskers," and the human being illustrated the Vandike by a motion of his hand, "asked me the same thing!"

Blye again! Ned clinched his fist. "Did you see the girl?"

The object winked.

"S none of your business," he answered with great dignity and reeled away.

Ned gazed after him in perplexity. There was no use to question that fellow any further, but it was certain that the man had seen June. She had passed this way then. She was somewhere near. And Blye! Blye, too, had passed this way! Ned chose the most direct street, the one which led to a little fountain, where another street angled sharply into it. And this fountain was visible from the third floor windows of the Widow O'Keefe's house. Ned Warner's heart was full of murder.

Blye had passed that way, but he had gone up another street. Now he, too, in his wandering search for the runaway bride came down toward the little fountain from the other angle.

June looked out of the window. In the gathering dusk she saw without recognizing them the two men approaching each other, with the sharp cornered building between.

At the point and under the light they would meet. Gilbert Blye and Ned Warner. And the husband of June had murder in his heart!

losing $2 in a friendly penny auction game, and she's been trying to overtake it ever since."

A gentle hand was laid on the man's arm.

"You will help her?" The low, sweet voice was full of more than appeal; it was full of trust and confidence.

There was a slight convulsive heaving of Perry's shoulders, but that was all. He drew out a pocketbook and counted some money into the yellow haired woman's hand.

"Now, bring Gwen to me," he said, and his voice had no harshness, his eyes no sternness, his smile no bitterness.

With moist eyes June hurried from the room. She was glad that she had stayed here, glad that she had come, very glad indeed, but now she was in

ried down the cross street. At an irregular corner, where half a dozen dingy streets and alleys plunged together, and apparently dizzied by the less off, June met on a narrow crossing a being fairly jiggling with alcohol. Her heart popped into her throat, and she was about to turn back, for she would have died rather than to have brushed clothes with the object, when the creature, catching sight of her, immediately stepped far over into the mud, jerked off his battered cap and with it made a courtesy so sweeping that he was unable to rise up for five minutes afterward.

That was enough for one day, and June ran down the street, past the little fountain, into the sanctuary of the Widow O'Keefe's house, up the two flights of stairs and dropped into the wicker chair.

"Slippers," was all she said.

Marie was on her knees in an instant, showing every gum.

"Aunt Debby!" she cried, and from then on until long after the wonderful chicken potpie had been consumed the conversation flowed with never an ebb.

It was good to have found a refuge like this. It seemed far, far away from the New York which these two knew, and it was as if no one could ever find them here. They were safe. Safe!

Is one ever safe? As Ned Warner stood

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter that one's system collects.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a nervous, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women, as well as men, take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets now and are just as happy in the pink of condition.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel—10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

REMOVAL NOTICE.

I have removed my second-hand furniture from S. Fayette street to West Court street, west of Dale's Furniture store.

I will pay highest price for second-hand furniture.

Citizens phone 3456.

G. E. RACER.

THE TAYLOR TALLY CARDS

are becoming more popular each month. Two, three, four and five sets on sale, only at Rodecker's.

Hundreds of health articles appear in newspapers and magazines and in practically every one of them the importance of keeping the bowels regular is emphasized. A constipated condition invites disease. A dependable physic that acts without inconvenience or griping is found in Foley's Cathartic Tablets. Blackmer & Tanqueray.

Furniture Repairing

UPHOLSTERING AND REFINISHING

All Work Absolutely Guaranteed

C. W. WILKINS

BELL PHONE 492w Wilson Bk.

Room formerly occupied by Gallagher Electric Co.

A TRIP TO NEW YORK

Classified Advertisements

The People's Column

Classified Advertisements

The People's Column

RATES PER WORD.

1 time in Daily Herald..... 1c
2 times in Herald & 1 in Register... 3c
3 times in Herald & 2 in Register... 4c
4 times in Herald & 4 in Register... 6c
5 times in Herald & 8 in Register... 10c
Additional time 1c per word per week
Minimum charges: 1t, 15c; 6t, 30c.

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—House of six rooms, double; gas, hard and soft waters. Vandeman St. Harry Fitzgerald. 43 tf

FOR SALE—2 sets of chain work harness; good as new. Harry Enloe, Bell phone. 43 6t

FOR RENT—About ten acres for lease on shares. Land two miles out. Joe Rankin. 42 6t

FOR RENT—7-room house, corner Broadway and Broadway. Mrs. Laura Ferrell. 41 6t

FOR RENT—Rooms for light housekeeping, 228 N. Fayette St. 13 tf

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—Two mares. See Geo. Lane, 2 1/2 miles southeast of Washington. 43 6t

FOR SALE—Four unit spark coil, 1/2 inch carburetor, Indian motorcycle, two passenger auto. Frank M. Haringer, Box 275, City. 42 6t

FOR SALE—300 shocks of fodder. E. B. Bush, Bell phone 212 R. 4. 40 6t

FOR SALE—Lot 67, Bakers' addition. Inquire of E. M. Marion, 316 Western avenue. 39 tf

BRITISH TROOP SHIP TORPEDOED

Carrying Soldiers Across Channel to France When Hit.

SO STATES A BERLIN DISPATCH

Steamer Conveying the Transport Also Reported Blown Up—German Submarine Sinks British Merchantman in the Irish Sea—English Warship Said to Have Been in Contact With a Mine Off the Belgian Coast.

Berlin (By Wireless to Sarville, L. I.), Feb. 22.—A dispatch received here reports that a British transport bringing troops to France was sunk, with accompanying steamer, in the English channel. The news has been posted at the newspaper offices and has caused great rejoicing in the capital.

News of the sinking of a British warship off the Belgian coast is published here. The statement says: "Near Nieuport an enemy ship, probably a mine searching vessel, touched a mine and sank. Destroyers of the enemy disappeared when shelled."

London, Feb. 22.—A German submarine, described by some as the U-12, which is operating in the Irish sea, found another victim in the little Irish coasting steamer Downshire. The Downshire was sunk not far from the spot where the British Cambank was torpedoed a few hours earlier. In the case of the Downshire, the crew were given time to escape in their boats, and instead of wasting a torpedo the Germans used a bomb which destroyed the vessel in a few minutes. The submarines up to the present have demonstrated their ability to attack only slow steamers or those lying at anchor, as a number ofiners have passed to and fro in the Irish sea, where the German craft have been at work, without being approached. The Downshire was sunk off Calp of Man, an island in the Irish sea.

TEAR UP SKIRTS. MAKE ROPE AND RESCUE MAN.

Caldwell, N. J., Feb. 22.—Nine young women from New York rescued Harry Reiter of New York from a perilous position on the side of Hook mountain by tearing up their petticoats and making a rope by which he was hauled back to safety. Reiter, had fallen some thirty feet down the side of the mountain and was clinging there when the women came to his aid. Below him the cliff fell away for a distance of fully 300 feet.

FRENCH CLAIM TWO SUCCESSES

Paris, Feb. 22.—A counter attack by French infantry, following a new assault by the Germans in an effort to recover the ground they lost north of Perthes, in Champagne, resulted in one of the most material successes that the recent fighting has produced. Not only was the enemy repulsed, but the French troops pursued him back to his positions and then past, and then capturing an entire line of German trenches to the north and east of the wooded region. Another valuable advance is announced in the official communique issued by the French war office. This was at a point north of Mesnil, near Perthes, where the Germans lost part of the trenches and the French captured 100 prisoners and two mitrailleuses.

RUSSIANS REPORT GAINS IN GALICIA

Petrograd, Feb. 22.—The Russian general staff issued the following official statement: "During the past two days we have captured about 1,000 Germans. In Galicia the enemy on Feb. 19 and 20, after preparatory bombardment of great intensity, took Sakicizine, but was repulsed after three attacks."

ALL BELGIUM IS WRECKED

New York, Feb. 22.—Charles F. Scott, once a representative from Kansas, who went abroad to investigate conditions in Belgium for the Belgian relief committee of his state, arrived here today. Mr. Scott said the suffering and destitution in Belgium had been reduced to a minimum through the contributions of Americans, but relief work would have to be continued indefinitely, as there was no prospect of the people becoming self-supporting in the near future. One of the things that impressed Mr. Scott most forcibly was the devastation caused by the German guns throughout Belgium. There is hardly a city or town that is not a mass of bricks, stone and mortar, with scarcely a house left standing. The moving pictures shown in this country of the devastation wrought by the Germans give only a very inadequate idea of its extent.

NEWSPAPER PLANT GUTTED BY FLAMES

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 22.—The building and entire plant of the Register and Leader and Des Moines Tribune newspapers here were destroyed by fire. The loss exceeds $200,000, about three-fourths of which was covered by insurance.

TO MAKE APPEAL FOR FEDERAL TROOPS

Denver, Feb. 22.—A call for help has been sent to the Indian police at Shiprock agency, New Mexico. The Indians surround Shiprock and are keeping up a continual attack on the whites. A demand for federal troops is to be made.

ITALY TO GUARD AGAINST SUBMARINES

Rome, Feb. 22.—The admiralty has issued orders that all Italian vessels bound for England shall fly the Italian flag and shall have painted on each side a large rectangular tricolor with the name on the port side. The name is to be illuminated at night.

WHEN YOU ENTERTAIN

You can secure invitation cards and envelopes at special hundred prices at Rodecker's. Several grades from the Crane factory to select from.

Mail Subscriptions

We are prepared to fill mail subscriptions to persons residing outside of Washington and other cities and towns where daily papers are on sale, as follows:

Daily Herald	Daily Herald
Commercial-Tribune	Columbus Citizen
Up-to-Date Farming	Both One Year $4.50
All one year $1.50
Daily Herald	Daily Herald
Columbus Journal	Columbus Dispatch
With Ladies' World or	With National Stockman or
National Stockman	Today's Magazine
Price $5.25	Price $5.25
Daily Herald,	Daily Herald
Cincinnati Times-Star	Cincinnati Post
With National Stockman or	With National Stockman or
McCall's Magazine	McCall's Magazine
Price $5.25	Price $5.25

The Herald Publishing Co.

Washington C. H., Ohio

FAVOR COURT OF NATIONS

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 22.—The world peace movement was given a boost here at a mass meeting addressed by John Hays Hammond, Henry Clews Dr. John Wesley Hill and United States Senator Sherman of Illinois. The meeting adopted a resolution offered by Former Representative Ira W. Wood, endorsing the plan for a supreme court of nations as the only rational basis for the settlement of international differences. Formation of such a tribunal was the keynote for most of the speeches. Andrew Carnegie sent a letter expressing his regret at his inability to be present. He said the Czar of Russia should be urged to convene the Hague tribunal for the third time. The aim of this country, according to Mr. Carnegie's view, should be to have the nations of the world combined in a manner similar to the states of the Union.

FORMER UNITED STATES SENATOR PASSES AWAY

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 22.—William Kavanaugh, fifty-five, former United States senator, died at his residence here of acute indigestion. He had been ill one hour. He was the president of the Southern baseball league at the time of his death.

WHITE MAN LYNCHED AFTER PISTOL BATTLE

Pleasant Hill, Mo., Feb. 22.—A white man, believed to be W. F. Williams of Hot Springs, Ark., who took part in a pistol battle in which a policeman and an unidentified man were killed, was taken from the jail here and lynched by a mob.

GLORIOUS RELIEF! CORNS CALLOUSES, FOOT LUMPS GO

You'll feel like a kid again, you'll be tickled to death at the painless, quick riddance of all your corns once you paint on Putnam's Extractor. Do it today! Dealers everywhere have been selling this safe, dependable and sure remedy for nearly fifty years. Only costs a quarter. Does the trick every time.

GRIPPY? FEVERISH? Chest Stuff? Bad Cough?

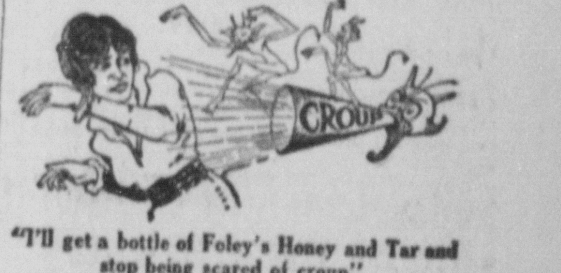

Drive those Ugly and Annoying Feelings Away with Dr. King's New Discovery--Pleasant, Soothing, Healing.

No need to suffer these annoying and sometimes dangerous ailments. Just ask your Druggist for a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. Take a dose to-night, repeat every time you have a spasm of Cough. Notice how well you sleep and how much better you feel to-morrow. Dr. King's New Discovery contains the necessary elements to quickly check your Cold and stop your Cough. So many have used it with gratifying results. Don't put it off, get a 50c bottle to-day and start using at once.

A CROUP SCARE

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound Quickly Masters It.

CROUP SCARES YOU. That loud, hoarse croupy cough, that choking and gasping breath, that labored breathing, have only too often forestalled fatal results. Lucky the parents who have FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND in the house, for you can be sure that the very first doses will master the croup.

"I'll get a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and stop being scared of croup."

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND enters the thick mucus and clears away the phlegm. It opens up and eases the air passages, stops the strangling cough, and gives quiet easy breathing, and peaceful sleep.

No wonder a man in Texas walked 15 miles to a drug store to get FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND.

P. H. GINN, Middleton, Ga., says: "I always give my children FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR for croup and in every instance they get quick relief and are soon sleeping soundly."

Every good druggist is glad to sell FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND for all coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis and in grippis coughs, and other throat and lung trouble. It satisfies every user, it helps infants, children and grown persons, and it never contains opiates. In 25c, 50c, $1.00 sizes.

 EVERY USER IS A FRIEND. ***

Blackmer & Tanqueray.

WALL PAPER CLEANED.

C. C. Kates, the old reliable wall paper cleaner will be in Washington C. H. soon for a short time only. He can purify your homes and thus save you the enormous expense of repapering. 40 6t

DAILY TIME TABLE.
BALTIMORE & OHIO S. W.
GOING WEST		GOING EAST
Cincinnati.		No. Columbus.
..5:05 a. m. d		110.	5:05 a. m.*
..7:33 a. m.*		104.	10:42 a. m. d
..3:34 p. m. d		108.	5:55 p. m.*
..6:13 p. m. d		106.	10:53 p. m. d
East-bound 114, Sundays, 4:19 a. m.
PENNSYLVANIA LINES.
GOING WEST		GOING EAST
Cincinnati.		No. Zanesville
..9:20 a. m.*		6...	9:42 a. m.*
..3:50 p. m.*		34...	5:45 p. m.*
Day to Cincinnati.....		7:40 a. m.
Day to Lancaster.....		8:28 p. m.
C. H. & D.
GOING NORTH		GOING SOUTH
Dayton		No. Wellston
..9:21 a. m. d		202.	9:42 a. m. d
..4:12 p. m.*		204.	6:08 p. m. d
DETROIT TOLEDO & IRONTON
GOING NORTH		GOING SOUTH
Springfield		No. Greenfield
7:47 a. m.*		5.....	11:33 a. m. d
4:15 p. m. d		1.....	7:00 p. m.*
Daily * Daily except Sunday

it off, get a 50c bottle to-day and start using at once.

Mr. A. Cooper, Oswego, N. Y., says: "It is a real pleasure to testify to the excellence of Dr. King's New Discovery. I have for many years been afflicted with a Cough that had become chronic, and nothing ever prevented night coughing until I used Dr. King's New Discovery."

Trial bottle mailed on receipt of 4c in stamps.

H. E. BUCKLEN & CO., 639 North Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

AERIAL RAID ON ENGLAND

London, Feb. 22.—Another aerial attack on the east coast was delivered by the Germans, this time with aeroplanes instead of Zeppelins. So far as can be learned, the effects of the raid were inconsequential.

The first town attacked was Colchester, in Essex county, on the Coln river, twelve miles from the sea and fifty-two miles northeast of London. Only one bomb was dropped there and the aeroplane squadron, the number of machines engaged being unknown, disappeared to the westward. Brain-tree and Coggeshall also were hit by bombs, but nobody was hurt and the damage was slight. At that time the hostile air craft seemed to be flying in the direction of Harwich, upon which the Germans made an aerial attack on Nov. 13.

SHIP SAFELY PASSES THROUGH WAR ZONE

London, Feb. 22.—The American line steamship Philadelphia, from New York, passed safely through the war zone and arrived at Liverpool. To avoid any mistakes as to her nationality on the part of German submarines the Philadelphia carried the American flag at every available spot. She carried 100 passengers.

MASQUERADE.

The Ladies of the Maccabees will give a masquerade in the Red Men's hall Tuesday evening, February 23rd for ladies only. Admission 10c. 43 3t

DOES YOUR PIANO NEED TUNING OR REPAIRING?

If it does call me for prompt and satisfactory service. I am also the factory distributor for the Hallet & Davis and Conway Pianos.

H.C. Fortier

Bell Phone 45W. Citizen 2485

Boost Washington. Buy a home.

Tonight

EMPIRE THEATRE

H. E. WILSON, Mgr.

THE BIGGEST EVENT SHOWN IN THIS THEATRE!

BOXING EXHIBITION

Between FLOYD TILLET vs. UNKNOWN.

FIVE ROUNDS.

Floyd Tillett is known as one of the fastest boxers in the state

In addition to the Boxing will be
2 VAUDEVILLE ACTS 2
 Of the Best and Highest Class
Prices 10 and 25c
 Seats now on sale at Leland's. Doors 7:30. Curtain 8:15

Markets

Close of Markets Today

LIVE STOCK MARKET.
 Chicago, Feb. 22.—Hogs—Receipts 3800; market strong; light yorkers $6.45 @ 6.70; heavy yorkers $6.15 @ 6.55; pigs $5.50 @ 6.75.
 Cattle—Receipts 12,000; market steady; native steers $5.25 @ 8.50; western steers $4.80 @ 7.35; cows and heifers $3.40 @ 7.60; calves $7 @ 10.75.
 Sheep and Lambs—Receipts 8000; market strong; sheep, natives $6.50 @ 7.35; lambs, natives $7.35 @ 8.80.

THE LOCAL MARKET. Corrected Daily at Noon.

Wheat 1.48
 Corn 72c
 Oats 55c

Prices Paid for Produce.
 Chickens 12½c
 Hens 12½c
 Eggs 21c
 Butter 22c
 New potatoes 50c
 Old potatoes 65c
 Lard 11c

Close of Markets Saturday (By American Press.)

KANSAS CITY, Mo.
 Cattle—Prime fed steers, $7.75 @ 8.25; dressed beef steers, $6.50 @ 7.50; southern steers, $5.75 @ 7.75; cows, $4.25 @ 6.50; heifers, $5.75 @ 7.75; stockers and feeders, $5.50 @ 7.25; bulls, $5.25 @ 6.50; calves, $6.50 @ 10.50.
 Hogs—Heavy, $6.40 @ 6.50; packers and butchers, $4.40 @ 5.50; light, $4.40 @ 6.00; pigs, $6.00 @ 6.50.
 Sheep and Lambs—Yearlings, $6.75 @ 7.00; wethers, $6.25 @ 7.00; ewes, $5.75 @ 6.00; lambs, $8.00 @ 8.50.

CHICAGO.
 Cattle—Native steers, $5.25 @ 8.50; western, $4.80 @ 7.35; cows and heifers, $3.40 @ 7.60; calves, $7 @ 10.75.
 Hogs—Light, $6.25 @ 6.50; mixed, $6.30 @ 6.50; heavy, $6.10 @ 6.45; rough, $6.10 @ 6.25; pigs, $5.25 @ 6.50.
 Sheep and Lambs—Sheep, $6.40 @ 7.25; yearlings, $7.25 @ 7.90; lambs, $7.25 @ 8.70.

CLEVELAND.
 Cattle—Good to choice steers, $7.25 @ 7.75; butcher steers, $6.75 @ 7.25; bulls, $5.50 @ 6.50; cows, $5.25 @ 6.50; calves, $6.50 @ 11.75.
 Hogs—Heavy, $6.50; Yorkers, light Yorkers and mediums, $5; pigs, $6.55; roughs, $5.50; stags, $5.
 Sheep and Lambs—Ewes, $5.75 @ 6.25; lambs, $7.00 @ 7.75.

CINCINNATI.
 Cattle—Steers, $5.50 @ 7.75; heifers, $4.50 @ 7.40; cows, $5.25 @ 6.50; calves, $6.50 @ 10.75.
 Hogs—Packers and butchers, $4.85 @ 7.75; common to choice, $5.25 @ 6.25; pigs and lights, $5.00 @ 6.50; stags, $4.25 @ 5.25.
 Sheep and Lambs—Sheep, $4.50 @ 6.75; lambs, $6.75 @ 9.25.

BOSTON.
 Wool—Ohio and Pennsylvania XX, 35c; delaine washed, 34½c; half blood combing, 33c; three-eighths blood combing, 34½c; fine unwashed, 28½c @ 29c.

INSURE your HORSES

Death from any Cause

Mares due to foal insured; policy covering foal for 30 days
 Western Live Stock Ins. Co., Peoria, Ill.

GLENN M. PINE, Agt.
 Judy Block. Tel. 538

YEGGS TRY TO SAW WAY OUT OF ROSS JAIL

Only the careful scrutiny of Sheriff Sweetson, of Ross county, prevented the New Holland postoffice robbers from sawing their way to freedom, recently, and now a still more careful watch is being maintained, for the instrument used to saw a padlock was nothing more than the small wire-like parts of a pair of steel frame spectacles worn by "Toledo Red."

The following excerpt from the Chillicothe News gives the story in brief:

"It was discovered by Deputies Hamm and Haynes that the men have been working on one of the heavy Yale locks which was used for locking the steel door which closes the passage from the corridor of the upper cell block to the outer room.

"This lock had a heavy steel staple about a quarter of an inch in diameter and is considered one of the safest padlocks made. It was found that it was cut about one-fourth of the way through. The work had not been done with a saw and the only article that could be used was the side piece of a pair of steel rimmed glasses which one of the prisoners wears. It is a known fact that prisoners have cut their way out of jail with these articles.

"When the men were put in the jail everything which could possibly be used for cutting the bars or locks was taken from them and especial attention was given to their shoes. They were closely examined and bent in order to break the steel shanks which are sometimes placed in them when they are manufactured.

"On several occasions the prisoners have asked for a broom but were not allowed to have one as the officers thought they wanted it to get the wire to be used as a saw. One of them who was never seen to wear glasses asked the officers to get him a pair of spectacles so he could read."

GEORGE WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY PROGRAM

A large audience was present at Conservatory hall Saturday afternoon to witness the celebration of Washington's birthday.

During the opening march, the performers came to the stage and formed an attractive picture in the quaint costumes of 1776, the effect heightened by softly shaded light falling upon them. Miss Leland announced the program. Following a brilliant piano solo, Virginia Fried, seven, told in a clear, sweet voice of girls admired by Washington.

Gwendolyn Spengler, only ten, gave an entertaining domestic episode, presenting two characters and their varying attitudes.

Miss Helen Lemmons recited the popular minuet with easy stage presence and clear distinct utterance. Miss Helen McCoy acted the part of the dignified, graceful beau, and Miss Leland, the coquettish belle of yesteryear. Miss Martha McCoy played the Mozart Minuet for this interesting presentation of an old-time pleasure.

Miss Helen McCoy gave a beautiful monologue, "Rosalind's Surrender," in faultless style.

Miss Leland's selection was "The Ballad of Sweet P". The picture of the fascinating "Penelope Penwick" was vividly portrayed by Miss Leland, who is the happy possessor of abundant vivacity and dramatic ability.

Miss McCoy closed the program with a piano selection, after which, thanks and congratulations were showered upon Mrs. Carpenter for a very delightful hour.

SISTERS HOLD ANNUAL REUNION

Annually a group of eight sisters celebrate together upon the occasion of one of their birthdays and this year the reunion, with its accompanying feast, was held at the home of Mrs. Jane Mills, in Sabina, Sunday.

The sisters are Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Lizzie Draper, Springfield; Mrs. Nora McDaniel, Cooks; Mrs. Louisa Hays, Mrs. Clara Fultz, Mrs. Myrtle Durham, of this city; Mrs. Josie Peele and Miss Anna Spurgeon, Sabina.

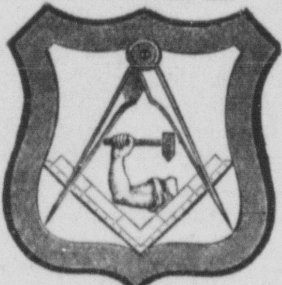

The additional guests were Mrs. Hays' daughter, Mr. Richard Hays and family, Mrs. Frank Jarnigan and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fitzgerald, of this city; Mrs. Ella Cummings, Mrs. Will Morrow and family, Mr. Earl Mills and family, Mrs. Loren Bentley and family, Sabina.

The day was one of great pleasure and the dinner a big success.

BROWNING CLUB.

The Browning club will meet in regular session Tuesday night, February 23, 1915, at Conservatory hall. SECY.

J. O. U. A. M.

Regular meeting of J. O. U. A. M. at Odd Fellows' hall at 7:30 tonight. Every member is urged to be present. Business of importance. Arrangements to be made for supper. JACK WOLFE, R. S.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Rev. W. B. Gage conducted a beautiful memorial service in tribute to Mrs. Fanny Crosby, the blind hymn writer, Sunday night at the Presbyterian church.

Sightless from the time she was four weeks old, this wonderful woman wrote many of the finest hymns and the longest lived in hymn books and Sunday school song books. The choir rendered Mrs. Crosby's hymns in solos and choruses.

There was a very large attendance.

Delicious brown cakes made from Mrs. Austin's Bag Pancake Flour. All grocers. adv

FOR SALE

We now have plenty of Slabwood and Sawdust. Call us.
The J. W. Willis Lumber Co. 44tf

THE OLD RELIABLE STILL IN THE LEAD

A drop in the price of sugar. Until further notice we will sell 25 lbs. best cane granulated sugar at $1.50 per sack. Best Irish potatoes, 60c per bushel. Get next to these prices. They will help you. Fancy grape fruit, 5c each. No. 1 Rio coffee, 12½ cents per lb. Full lines of all kinds of fruits and vegetables. Get a bottle of Duffee's Cough Syrup. Pleasant to take. Big bottle for 25c.

J. W. DUFFEE & CO.
 The Old Reliable Cash Grocers. Both phones NO. 77.

PYTHIAN SISTERS.
 Regular meeting of Washington Temple No. 380 Tuesday evening, February 23rd at 7 o'clock. Initiation.
JANE A. GARDNER, M. E. C.
IDA C. GILLESPIE, M. of R. & C.

GARFIELD COMMANDERY
 NO. 28, K. T.
 Special conclave Tuesday evening, February 23rd, 1915, at 7 p. m. sharp. Drill and Malta. By order of W. E. ROBINSON, E. C.
AMOS THORNTON, JR., Rec.

FOR SALE

We now have plenty of Slabwood and Sawdust. Call us.
The J. W. Willis Lumber Co. 44tf

A LEAKY LAKE.

High Above Sea Level, Yet Its Water Is Becoming Salt.

A queer and unexpected result of the operation of the Panama canal is the making of a salt water lake high above sea level on the isthmus. A lake that was pure fresh water last summer is now so salt that the water is not fit to drink, and this in spite of the fact that the bottom of the lake is much above the highest level which the high tides of the Pacific ocean reach.

Miraflores lake is eight miles from the Pacific ocean, on the line of the canal, and was created by the building of the waterway. It is fed by water from the great Gatun lake, and plans had been adopted prior to the opening of the canal for using the lake as a water supply for a number of small towns. As soon as the canal was placed in operation the water of Miraflores lake became noticeably salt, and its value as a drinking water supply disappeared.

The salt, of course, comes from the salt water of the Pacific ocean, which works its way up into the lake through the operation of the two locks between the lake and sea level. Every time a boat goes up the locks on the Pacific end a certain amount of salt water goes along with it.

Salt water is heavier than fresh water, and consequently every time the lock gates are opened currents of fresh water and salt water quickly flow until the lower part of the water in the lock is sea water and the upper layer of water is fresh. The salt water is much diluted before it finally gets into Miraflores lake, but enough of it gets there to become very noticeable.—Saturday Evening Post.

CUR ELECTRIC WARSHIP.

The California Is the First of Its Kind to Be Tried.

The United States is the first nation to use electricity in place of steam to propel a battleship. That will be the motive power on the Dreadnought California, in which it will be used according to a method that has been thoroughly tested and perfected on the big 19,000-ton collier Jupiter, where it has proved most successful.

The advantages are many. As the speed of a vessel run by electricity can be instantly changed, the dangerous "racing" of the propellers in heavy seas can be prevented. Then an electric power plant occupies far less space and weighs less than marine engines that produce an equal amount of energy. Finally the cost of maintenance and repairs is much less, and there is a great saving in coal.

The new Dreadnought will probably have two plants. If one gets out of order the ship can still proceed by means of the other.—Youth's Companion.

London Directory Shrinks.

For the first time in years a new edition of London's city directory shows a shrinkage. The 1914 directory weighed exactly fifteen pounds. The directory for 1915 has wasted away to fourteen pounds and fourteen ounces. Part of the two ounces is due to the disappearance of German and Austrian firms. This directory contains the names of business houses, professional men and householders, but the population living in hotels or boarding houses is not mentioned, so that it is difficult to ascertain the shrinkage due to enlistments.

Fairly Warned.

Cholly—Before I met you I thought of nothing but making money. Ethel—Well, keep right on! Pop ain't so rich as folks think!—Dallas News.

B. F. KEITH'S

For the week of March 1st, B. F. Keith's Theater, Columbus, is offering an excellent bill topped by Miss Hope Vernon the young songstress and violinist. Miss Hope is an ar-

S. S. Cockerill & Son

Groceries and Queensware

The Wear-Ever Aluminum Pans

on sale last Saturday were sold before noon. We have ordered 200 more for next Saturday. If you were disappointed last Saturday in not being able to secure a pan give us your order this week and we shall be glad to reserve it for you from the next lot.

Same price—18c each

Granulated Sugar Lower -- $1.55

per twenty-five pound bag

PURINA CHICK FEED in 8½ lb bags - 30c
PURINA SCRATCH FEED in 8½ lb bags 30c
PURINA CHICK FEED in 100 lb bags - $2.85
PURINA SCRATCH FEED in 100 lb bags $2.75
INTERNATIONAL BRAND SCRATCH in 100 lb bags - $2.35
INTERNATIONAL BRAND CHICK in 100 lb bags - $2.45
INTERNATIONAL BRAND Scratch and Chick in bulk, pound 3c
PURINA CHICKEN CHOWDER, per bag 30c

Feeding Molasses in barrels containing about 55 gallons, 16c per gallon
Epson Salts 5c pound, 6 pounds for 25c
Sulphur 5c pound, 6 for 25c

tist in every sense of the word. She sings and plays with equal ease and her combined talents, plus her youth and beauty, go far towards making her a favorite wherever she has appeared.

Sim Collins and Lewis Hart the "Original Strong Man" assisted by Harry Kelly, the young comedian, will offer delightful burlesques and take-off the idiosyncrasies of other performers.

Fred Sesman, assisted by George Fairman, will offer comedy and songs. Mr. Sesman is a light comedian with unctious and a thorough knowledge of the value of lights and shades in fun-making. His accompanist is most capable and lends admirable support.

Leander De Cordova and his select company will appear in a stirring military drama, "Your Flag and Mine," of which Willard Mack, author of "The Kick-in" wrote for him.

Four other feature acts, yet to be added and the Hearst-Selig pictures will complete the bill.

SUNDAY ENTERTAINMENT.
 For the benefit of our readers who will spend Sunday afternoon or evening in Columbus, we call attention to the fact that the best motion pictures in that city are to be found at Keith's from 1:30 to 10:30 Sunday. In addition to the pictures, two concerts are given each Sunday night. The first begins at 7:00 and the second at 8:30, when the Keith Orchestra will repeat their program. In other words, both pictures and music program will be given twice in the same evening to suit the convenience of both late and early patrons. Manager Prosser who is a great lover of music, has arranged these concerts in order to give Columbus an opportunity to hear good music at the usual cost of motion pictures, and, at the same time, show a splendid array of films.

THE PROPER ADJUSTMENT

of the working parts of machinery decrease cost of operating, increase power and lengthen life. Don't let your gas engine or tractor run without being properly adjusted.

SEND FOR
L. E. Garinger
 Bell 263-W 3038

PARRETT'S GROCERY!

"THE YELLOW FRONT."

THE HOME OF QUALITY FOR TWENTY-SEVEN YEARS.

Findon Haddocks

A delightful fish to serve for luncheon. Packed in Scotland. Large can 30c each.

Chili Con Carne

Mexican style, with beans. If you have never tried a dish of Chili Con Carne you have a real pleasure ahead of you. Order a can of Libby's. Price 10c per can.

Apple Butter

Lippincott Brand. Free from artificial coloring and preservatives. Pure, wholesome and delicious. Two sizes, 10 and 15c each.

FRESH VEGETABLES AGAIN TOMORROW

We Give Rebate Stamps

APPLES LOWER APPLES

We have a car of Fancy Rome Beauties, Baldwins and Ganos on the C. & M. V. track next to freight office.

Bring Your Baskets, Bags and Barrels

Rome Beauty 75c bu.
Baldwins : 75c bu.

Athens Fruit & Produce Co.

The House That Cut the High Cost of Living in Washington
 Corner Main and East Sts.
 BOTH PHONES UNION DELIVERY